Township assessment information on blue cards

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The published assessment roll for Antioch Township is small as the only changes done were to properties that had previously contained an error and new construction. All residents will receive an assessment notice "blue card" indicating status.

Township assessor Heather Kufalk-Marotta said, "I basically did no changes. New construction makes up most of the published assessment list."

According to Kufalk-Marotta, it's not uncommon to publish only those properties that have been sold, have had changes or have had improvements made to them.

She said that this was not a full assessment. Full assessments are done once every four years, and that 2002 is when the next one falls.

Kufalk-Marotta added that Lake County has been in the process of changing over to a new computer program to figure assessments. "The county is working on getting that changeover completed," she explained.

The multiplier supplied by Lake County to Kufalk-Marotta's office is 3.29 percent.

"Last year we had about a 1 percent increase," she said. "I'm surprised it's been so quiet. With the way the times are and the economy, I expected to hear from more people."

Residents should look over their blue cards for errors. Kufalk-Marotta said that by the time the tax bill comes out, it might be too late for her office to help if there is a problem.

The published assessment roll is figured on one-third value. Land value is not shown, but can be figured by subtracting the improvement (IMP) from the total value. Vacant lots owned by developers have values assessed at a special subdivision rate.

Questions should be addressed to Kufalk-Marotta at 395-1545.

Trustees seek balance on committees

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The two female trustees of Antioch's village board expressed their disappointment when male appointments were made to the police and fire commission and to the combined planning and zoning commission instead of replacing women.

When Ed Macek was named by Mayor Taso Maravelas to replace Diane Bishop on the police and fire commission, trustee Dorothy Larson said, "That board will now have three men and no women. You've also done that on planning and zoning when you replaced

Nancy Binder."

Larson pointed out that the only place Maravelas has made a female appointment was to the parks department "where you think a woman should be."

Trustee Barbara Porch concurred with Larson's contention and both objected again later when Brad Ipsen was appointed to the combined planning and zoning board, replacing Don Jansky though this time with regard to the timing of the appointment.

Porch said, "I thought we had decided in executive session to postpone an appointment until after Neumann Homes."

Maravelas said, "I thought I should (appoint) someone with expertise." According to Maravelas, Ipsen served on the planning and zoning board for more than a decade from the early 1980s-90s, has served on the school board, and he and his family have been residents "for generations."

Trustee Wayne Foresta asked whether it was possible to appoint Ipsen to the position, but ask him not to vote on Neumann Homes. Attorney Donald Anderson answered, "The individual has to make the determination whether he is sufficiently informed and qualified to vote."

20th anniversary entertainment extravaganza begins

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Footlights 20th anniversary celebration begins Nov. 2 at St. Peter Church in Antioch. Though the event has been around for 20 years, those wishing to attend must be 21 years old.

"The 20th anniversary of the Footlights fundraiser has become an Antioch tradition," said Fran Ano, one of the event's volunteers.

The event offers plenty of bang for the buck with 10 rooms of food and entertainment for a mere $10 in advance, or $12 at the door, though the cost of food and libation is extra. The ticket price buys as much music, comedy and fun as time allows on any given night. The event runs two consecutive weekends Nov. 2-3, and Nov. 9-10.

Each of the 10 rooms has its own theme. The Platinum Rock room celebrates 20 years of music through a variety of bands including BBI, The Rockin' Fendershirts and After Hours.

"This year our bands performing in the Platinum Rock room are really strong and have followings of their own and were seen over the summer at Taste of Summer in Antioch," Ano boasted.

A Celebration of Stars will allow those who've made Footlights a tradition to enjoy the longest shining stars of the 20-year annual event. The room will feature the Grease Band along with food and specialty drinks.

The Zeus Table offers the food of the gods. This "heavenly banquet of epic proportions" will be served until 9 p.m.

A 30-minute musical review called "Made in America" performed by a fine cast of local performers and directed by Ken Scheske in the PM&L Presents room.

If the fuel tank is on empty, stop at the Pit Stop where the "high octane fumes of hot dogs and beer" will refill that tank for more fun and frolic.

The Faculty Lounge is where sixth-grade teacher Tom Tukesbrey and his folk rock band Stegosaurus are touted "the hit of the class."

Back by popular demand, the 3 Brothers comedy improv show will be performed in The Garage.

Local lip sync talents regularly get the crowds rolling in the aisles, and will do so again this year in the Stars of Lip Sync room. "Many of Antioch's finest talents can be seen here," said Ano.

Black Jack and Diamond Jim's is Antioch's oldest established casino (license #CG17) and will be open from 7p.m.-midnight. It features blackjack, poker, craps, roulette and bang.

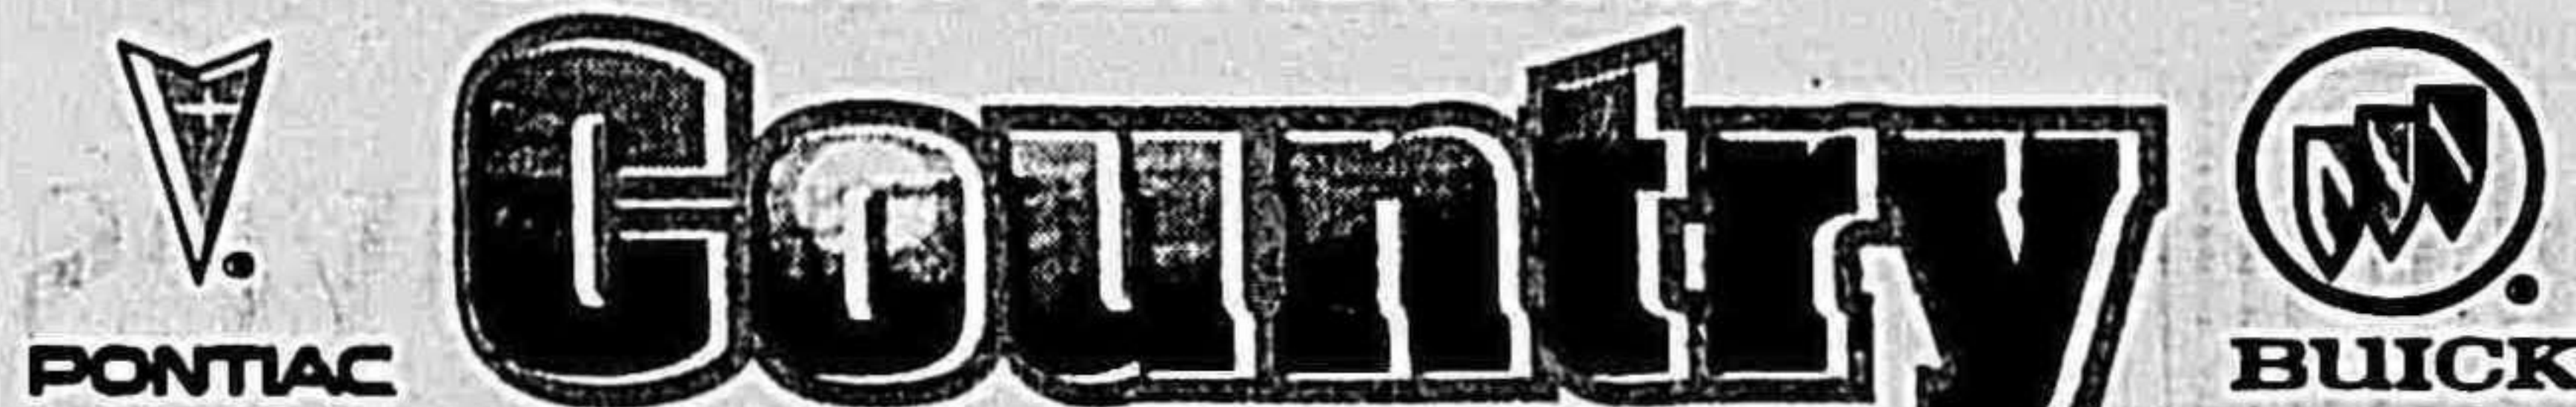

All of the proceeds benefit the St. Peter Parish. Volunteer Maribeth Huebner said, "A lot of people participate who are not necessarily part of the parish."

Passes that are good for all four nights are available for $30.

State Bank of the Lakes dons jeans for good cause

Employees at State Bank of the Lakes in Antioch, Lindenhurst, Grayslake and Spring Grove were thrilled to donate $2 per person to be allowed to wear jeans to work for a day. On Oct. 5, over 95 employees sported denim in various shades of blue and black. Total contributions for the privilege came to $211.

In recognition of October as Breast Cancer Awareness Month, the bank participated in the event named "It's All In The Jeans Day," partnering with Vista Health, who developed the program. Local businesses could participate on Oct. 5, or any other day in October. Employees wear stickers explaining the purpose of the dressing down, as well as hanging posters for the same purpose. The money raised from the program will remain in the local communities to enhance diagnostic and oncology services in Northeastern Illinois.

"In light of all the other donation requests people have been receiving lately, I was very impressed by how everyone rallied for this cause," said Mary Lou Toomey, program coordinator for the bank.

Additional information on the program can be obtained by calling Jennifer Yonan, Development Manager at Vista Health at 360-4248.

Club offers personal safety training

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Junior Woman's Club is sponsoring a free personal safety training class for women on Nov. 9. The class will be conducted by the Antioch Police Dept. followed by a demonstration on self-defense from 7-9 p.m. at the parks department building located at 806 Holbek St.

"It's very important for women to know how to defend themselves," said Diane Bishop, who organized the program. "This is especially true with the holidays upcoming."

Bishop said she asked Police Chief Charles Watkins if the department could put together a program for the club. "They were more than happy to help," she said.

The class is open to all women. There will be some limited hands-on training for those in attendance, and for that reason comfortable casual clothes are recommended.

"Sgt. (Craig) Somerville will speak for the first 45 minutes or so," said Bishop. "He will be teaching the same types of things that are taught to the officers."

There is no age restriction, but Bishop said she would not recommend the class for girls younger than high school age. She added, "I am bringing my daughter."

Space is limited and reservations are required. "If we have a really good turnout, we have the class again later in the month," said Bishop.

Call Bishop at 838-3255 in the evening to make reservations.

Township, county watch village's growth

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

If the last few meetings have proven anything, it's that more than just village officials are watching the growth of Antioch.

Antioch Township trustee Claudette Skvarce read a letter into the minutes of the meeting of the board of directors of the Village of Antioch that had been approved at the last township board meeting. That meeting was held the same night the Neumann Homes proposal was being heard in a public hearing before the combined planning and zoning board.

"The Antioch Township board advises that they would like to see strict adherence to all existing zoning ordinances, strict adherence to the Comprehensive Plan of the Village of Antioch and no granting of variances to developers that would in any way increase density," she read.

The letter also said the township board would prefer if buildable acreage were used when calculating density instead of total acreage.

The letter concluded, "We all want Antioch to grow and prosper, but we need to control growth wisely in order to avoid a concrete and asphalt 'megaburb' in which to raise our children."

At the public hearing for Neumann Homes, Lake County Board Rep. Judy Martini (R-Antioch) responded to residents voicing their complaints about the proposal. She explained that she was advised by attorneys for the Lake County Forest Preserves and the county board not to say anything.

"I think I'm better off being quiet, but I hear your pain," she said. "I am here and I am listening. There's an old saying, 'Watch out for the quiet ones.'"

CORRECTION

It was reported that Neumann Homes would be back before the combined planning and zoning board at a special meeting on Oct. 25. The continued date of the Neumann Homes proposal before the board is Nov. 8.

Safety improves Halloween fun

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Accidents take away from the fun of the holidays. With that in mind, the Antioch Fire Dept. would like to mind residents to follow a few safety measures on Halloween.

"It's our responsibility to prevent accidents besides those that are fire related," said information officer Chris Lienhardt. "Over Halloween Howl, we gave out about 500 blinking lights, personal warning strobes, to children for them to put on their Halloween costumes for trick-or-treating."

The department recommends making sure that masks have proper openings that will allow for peripheral vision. Also, costumes should be highly visible and use reflective tape and, or a personal strobe like the ones given out during Halloween Howl.

Props, such as swords, should made of a material that would bend under pressure in case the child should fall.

"A child's excitement over dressing up, or going out with friends to trick-or-treat can cause both the parents and children to forget some very important safety tips," Lienhardt added.

The department also reminds residents not to place jack-o-lanterns in a place where a child's costume (or any other flammable material) could catch fire.

Children, obviously, should never talk to or agree to go anywhere with strangers either walking or in vehicles.

Parents should accompany children as much as possible, use sidewalks where available and remind children to look both ways before crossing the street.

For more information, call the fire department's non-emergency number: 395-5511.

'Tis the season of darkness and cold

The holiday that we celebrate today known as Halloween developed as a melding of ancient customs and festivals, some influences going back thousands of years.

The Celts worshipped many gods, a favorite being the sun god. They felt it was this god that commanded their work and helped crops grow. Their new year was celebrated with a festival to mark the end of the "season of the sun" and the beginning of "the season of darkness and cold."

It is said that when their crops were harvested and stored for the winter all of the home cooking fires would be extinguished.

The Celtic priests would meet on a hilltop and light new fires and offer sacrifices. When morning came, each family would be given an ember to take home and start new cooking fires.

A festival called Samhain that would last for three days would follow this. Many would parade in costumes made from the skins of animals.

OUR TOWN

One Roman influence would be that of Pomona Day, a festival named for the goddess of fruits and gardens.

The Roman Church's contributions include first All Saints Day (also known as Halloween and celebrated on Nov. 1), and then All Souls Day to honor the dead. The latter was celebrated with parades and people dressing as saints, angels and devils.

The name transformed from Halloween to All Hallow's Eve and eventually to Halloween.

Trick or Treat hours within the Village of Antioch are from 4-7 p.m. on Oct. 31.

The Halloween coloring contest sponsored by the First National Bank-Employee Owned continues through Oct. 29.

The contest is open to kindergartners through fifth graders. The picture of a scarecrow is simple enough for young children, but can be made more interesting through rendering by older children.

All entries will be displayed in the bank lobby. Judging will take place on Oct. 30, and prizes will be awarded by age category.

Additionally, Halloween trick-or-treat bags are available at the bank to make candy collecting easier.

If you have interesting information to submit for "Our Town" call Julie Murphy at 223-8161, ext. 600 or e-mail, moorfe@ix.netcom.com

Students celebrate reading

Students at Antioch Elementary School celebrated the completion of the schools' Summer Reading Program. The program included reading at least 500 minutes over the summer vacation. On Friday, Oct. 19 the 57 children attended a "Make your own ice cream sundae" party.

They also received a book of their own choosing plus another book, and the prize package was topped off with a coupon for free frozen custard from Main Street Frozen Custard in Antioch. Superintendent Dr. John Hunt and Principal Dr. Deborah Harding were on hand to emcee the activity and to congratulate and praise the students. The PTO sponsored event is looking forward to even more readers next summer.

DUI/possession of cannabis

Gary A. Becker, 39, of 38749 Kelley Rd., Spring Grove, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol and for possession of cannabis on Oct. 22 at 12:42 a.m. in the 1000 block of Rte. 173.

Police saw a vehicle in the eastbound lane of Rte. 173 cross over the white fog line and onto the shoulder. The officer turned around to follow the car and saw it continue to weave within its lane and finally cross over the centerline at Highview Dr.

When the officer stopped and approached the car, he saw Becker reach back and tuck something into the backseat.

The officer requested Becker's license and detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on his breath as they spoke.

Becker failed the field sobriety tests requested of him. He was arrested for DUI and secured in the squad car.

Police conducted inventory for tow and found a smoking pipe referred to as a "one hitter" with residue and odor of burnt cannabis, and a small amount of a green leafy substance. A partially full bottle of vodka was also found.

The officer retained the contraband and transported Becker to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued a citation for DUI. Becker refused chemical testing. He was put through booking procedures and issued additional citations for transportation of open alcohol, two counts of improper lane usage and possession of cannabis under 2.5 grams.

Becker was released on personal recognizance pending court.

David J. Buchta, 42, of 1017 S. Cuyler, Oak Park, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol and for possession of cannabis on Oct. 18 at 11:49 p.m. on Rte. 173 west of Tiffany Road.

Police responded to a call for a possible DUI. The complainant told police there was a vehicle in the parking lot that had been weaving all over northbound Rte. 59.

The officer followed the vehicle as it left the parking lot. As the vehicle passed Tiffany Road, it crossed over the centerline into the eastbound lane of traffic.

Buchta told police he did not have a valid driver's license. He also told police he was on his way home to Oak Park that he believed was only a few miles west of where he was stopped.

The officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on Buchta's breath. Buchta was unable to complete field sobriety testing due to poor balance and coordination.

He was arrested for DUI. While conducting a search of Buchta's right shirt pocket, the officer found a film canister of less than 2.5 grams of cannabis.

His identifiers were checked through LEADS with him having no valid driver's license.

During inventory for tow, police found a wooden smoking pipe containing residue that smelled of freshly burnt cannabis.

Buchta was transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for disobeying a traffic control signal and DUI. He refused chemical testing.

Buchta was issued additional citations for improper lane usage, no valid driver's license, unlawful possession of cannabis and unlawful possession of drug paraphernalia.

He was held until 6:30 a.m. as he was unable to secure bond. At 6:30 a.m., he was released on personal recognizance pending court.

DUI/revoked driver's license

Michael A. Kerton, 40, of 40453 Goldenrod Lane, Wadsworth, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol and for driving when his driver's license was revoked on Oct. 18 at 7:36 p.m. on Rte. 173 east of Savage Road.

Police observed an oncoming vehicle cross the centerline into the officer's lane of traffic, causing the officer to take evasive actions to avoid collision. The officer turned around and followed the vehicle as it accelerated to a high rate of speed and weave severely crossing both fog and centerlines several times.

Kerton told police his driver's license was revoked. The officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on his breath.

Kerton refused to perform field sobriety tests. He was arrested for DUI. His identifiers were checked through LEADS and came back with information that he was revoked for previous DUI arrests.

During the inventory for tow, a partially full bottle of vodka was found.

Kerton was transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for improper lane usage and DUI. He refused chemical testing and was issued additional citations for improper lane usage, driving while revoked and the illegal transportation of alcohol.

He was released on cash bond pending court.

Suspended driver's license

Julia I. Janowicz, 21, of 621 Ash St., Waukegan, was arrested for driving while suspended on Oct. 21 at 9:01 p.m. on Rte. 173 at Harden.

Police locked her vehicle traveling 55 mph in a posted 40-mph zone. Her identifiers were checked through LEADS with information coming back that her license was suspended.

Janowicz was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where she was issued citations for speeding and driving while suspended. She was released on personal recognizance pending court.

Thomas M. Crawford, 45, of 25420 Golfview Ave., Antioch, was arrested for driving while suspended on Oct. 20 at 1:08 a.m. at the intersection of Depot and Anita streets.

As his vehicle stopped at the stop sign, police observed his registration sticker was expired. Crawford's identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC with information coming back that his driver's license was suspended.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for having expired registration and driving while suspended.

Crawford was released on personal recognizance pending court.

Scott A. Kurinec, 39, of 22897 Lake Shore Dr., Antioch, was arrested for driving while suspended on Oct. 18 at 10:33 p.m. at the intersection of routes 173 and 59.

Police observed his vehicle fail to stop at a red light as it made a right hand turn onto Rte. 59. Kurinec's identifiers were checked through LEADS and came back that his driver's license was suspended.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for disobeying a traffic signal and driving while suspended. He was released on personal recognizance pending court.

Pumpkins support Cystic Fibrosis

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The First National Bank-Employee Owned (FNBE) will be selling pumpkin pin-ups for $1 each through Halloween to support finding a cure for cystic fibrosis (CF).

"We do the pumpkin pin-up program every year," said Karen Kubin, the bank's marketing director. "It is a great way to help cystic fibrosis, and we decorate our lobby at the same time."

The pumpkins are available to area residents, whether or not they belong to the bank. All of the proceeds go to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Kubin added, "Our employees enjoy letting the customers know about the pumpkins for cystic fibrosis. We like to help."

The genetic disease affects about 30,000 children and adults in the United States today. The symptoms are diverse and vary in severity, and are often confused with recurrent pneumonia or asthma.

For more information about CF, go to the foundation's web site at www.cff.org.

For more information about the pumpkin pin-up program, call Kubin at 838-2265.

Police Department to offer drug kits through school

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Antioch Police Department Chief Charles Watkins addressed the board of education of Antioch Community High School Dist. 117 (ACHS) at its Oct. 17 meeting. The visit's purpose was two fold: to show off the department's new K-9 unit and the dog's ability to sniff out a variety of drugs and weapons, and to further discuss the merits of the confidential drug kits the department will make available to the school.

"There are no reports and the results don't go through either the police department or the school," said Watkins. "The parent would collect a sample (urine), and the kit provides seals and control numbers and everything needed. The sample is sent to California and after three days, there is an 800 number to call, with a code, to find out the results."

Watkins said the test checks for the presence of 30 different drugs in the sample.

"Sometimes if a parent is in here with a kid, the kid will deny drug use to the bitter end," said Watkins. "This is a very good tool because it leaves it up to the parents. Parents can use the kit to see what is really going on, and then seek help through counseling or some other program if necessary."

Watkins said the goal of the police department is to step up efforts to keep drugs out of the village, while offering an alternative to arrest.

Parents would have to get one of the kits from either the police department or from the high school.

Youth group hosts bake sale to fund Samaritan works

The St. Peter Youth Group is a group of young adults who have spent a couple of days each of the last several summers helping out in towns whose residents are less fortunate than most. Their travels have taken them to the hills of West Virginia and the valleys of Pennsylvania. During their all too brief encounter with the residents of these places, the young adults have been known to paint buildings and roof houses.

While their peers back home have been surfing the Internet and visiting the malls, they have unselfishly spent countless hours engaging in activities with children as well as seniors. They work in conditions less than desirable and sleep on gymnasium floors in sleeping bags. Each year they leave their new friends and community with heavy hearts but warm memories.

And yet, once again, they are looking forward to partaking of another encounter this summer. For those of us who have heard their testimonies about these less than ideal experiences, it gives us hope in the future leadership of our country.

Right now, this bunch of young adults is trying to raise money to fund the next adventure, and what better way than a bake sale. This will be held before and after all the masses at St. Peter's Church in Antioch, on Saturday, Oct. 27, and Sunday, Oct. 28, in the parish hall (church basement). Masses are on Saturday at 5:30 p.m. and Sunday at 6:30 a.m., 8 a.m. 9:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m.

Also at this time the youth group will be selling the remaining Entertainment 2002

Make a Difference Day scheduled

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"This is a day for people to help people," said Rep. Tim Osmond (R-Antioch) of the governor's proclaimed Make a Difference Day to be held on Oct. 27.

Earlier in the summer, the Gov. George Ryan signed the proclamation to set aside the day for "volunteerism and community service."

This is the 11th annual such day. The proclamation states that last year more than 2.2 million people volunteered in some way to make communities "better, cleaner, safer place(s) to live, work and play."

"This is a really worthwhile effort," said Osmond. "And, it's a feel-good day."

Bank matches aid to United Way

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

State Bank of The Lakes matched the funds raised by employees to aid the rescue efforts in New York City and Washington, D.C. through the United Way.

About 140 employees donated over $2,000, and the bank sent a check totaling $4,200 to the United Way.

"We covered one full pay period, or about three weeks," said Mary Lou Toomey, program coordinator for the bank. "We wanted to give everyone an opportunity to contribute, and some wouldn't have been able to with the first paycheck."

Toomey said the United Way left it pretty open as to how the money could be used. "We had a choice of New York, Washington, D.C. or wherever the money would do the most good," she said. "We chose to have it used where it would do the most good."

Toomey said Randy Miles, the bank's president and CEO, was very vocal in his support of the project. "He did a lot more than just send a memo around and leave it at that. He made sure he thanked employees for their support and willingness to help."

Pinned down

It was a good day to be a Huskie. Northern Illinois came from behind to beat Western-Michigan 20-12 in the school's 95th homecoming clash. At the 50-yard-line during halftime, Mark Tiffany accepted accolades for a stellar three-year wrestling career. He joined the 2001 inductees as a Hall of Fame member.

"He had been up for the Hall for three or four years. One of the last conversations I had with Don Flavin, our wrestling coach who died, said that Tiffany should be in the Hall of Fame. As people get older, they appreciate being in the Hall more. I told Mark he would have a good time and he did," said Mike Korcek, NIU Sports Information Director and Hall-of-Fame committee chairman.

Tiffany came to DeKalb after winning the state wrestling title in 1972 at 185 pounds at Waukegan East High School.

"I started at Oklahoma State. After sitting out a year-and-a-half, I came to NIU. It was hard, being out of it for two and one-half years," Tiffany said.

Tiffany went on to become NIU's first three-time NCAA Division I championship qualifier, from 1975-77. He was the Huskies' initial Mid-American Conference champion in 1975 and the first conference champ to repeat. He gained All-America status by finishing sixth in the national tournament, losing to Al Nacin of powerhouse Iowa State. The 1965 season included a 16-match win streak.

"I had dislocated my clavicle before the national tournament," Tiffany said. "Coach Flavin said I should go and see what happened. I went, and had an easy opponent the first round and finished sixth. I had not plan on wrestling, but I was delighted. I was up 6-2 against Nacin, but he pinned me on the same move I used."

He led the team in scoring three straight seasons, was two-time MVP, and concluded his career as NIU athlete of the year winner in 1976-77.

The first day of practice Nov. 5 marks Tiffany's 19th year as wrestling coach at Warren High. "We had a lot of kids in the state tournament. But my coaches always said to give something back. A lot of our guys start wrestling as freshmen, so a lot of credit goes to coaches Pete Campbell and Tony Flippo," Tiffany said.

Tiffany credited his success with coaches Flavin and Larry TenPas at Waukegan East. TenPas introduced Tiffany at the Hall-of-Fame banquet.

Tiffany had a 70-3 career record and named the state's most outstanding wrestler in 1972. He was named to the Waukegan Lions Club Hall of Fame in 1999.

Also honored at homecoming included: the 1958 men's cross country national champion; field hockey star Colleen Preston-Penny; football QB Stacy Robinson and golfer Jim Suttie.

"They are all great guys. My roommate in college, Jim Dacey, was a linebacker and he still follows NIU," Tiffany said.

The area was well represented at the IHSA Girls Tennis State Tournament held at Prospect High School last weekend.

Warren's No. 1 singles player Teri Chan fared the best, winning her first round match over Morton's Molly Thompson 6-2, 6-2. She lost her second round match to Barrington's Ashley Morris 6-3, 6-2 before going on to advance to the fourth round of the consolation bracket where she lost to Lindsey Irwin of Belleville East 6-2, 6-0.

Libertyville's Charmaine Stanislaw also advanced to the fourth round of the consolation bracket before losing to Glenbard West's Katie Evangelist 6-0, 6-0.

The Cats' top doubles tandem of Bianca Barr and Amanda Leibold advanced all the way to the fifth round of the consolation bracket before losing 6-3, 6-1 to New Trier.

There were several other area qualifiers who fared well including Libertyville's Kristine Lewry and Lindsay Jauch and Erin Oldenburg, Warren's Christine Matus and Kanika Rustagi and Christy Worth and Grayslake's Joann Regenauer and Jennifer Dempsey.

Sequoit cross country sprints to sectionals

Hard work and training over the summer has certainly paid nice dividends for the Antioch boys and girls varsity cross country teams.

Case in point—last weekend at Fox River Park in Silver Lake, Wis.

That's when both teams turned on the jets in qualifying for the Schaumburg sectional, to be held at Busse Woods Oct. 27.

The boys, fresh off of their North Suburban title a week earlier, finished second with 55 points a the top-5 teams and the top-5 individuals not on qualifying teams advanced.

Andy Napier led the Sequoits by finishing fifth with a time of 16:35. Meanwhile, Jim Beatty, an individual sectional qualifier a year ago, came in right behind in eighth (16:59). Both were All-Conference a week earlier. Chip Leffelman, David Dee, Justin Mehaffey and Ryan Moxley also earned All-NSC honors.

"I was pretty excited. I got my personal-best by four seconds," said Beatty. "I think training over the summer and maturity has also helped. I'm 1 minute, 15 seconds ahead of my times from last year. But we have a solid team. Good pack running."

Beatty and Moxley, 13th at regionals (17:20), were quick to point out the advantages of the new training regimen implemented this season at ACHS.

"We do quarter repeats and jog in

"Schaumburg's a tough sectional but getting (to state) is very attainable."

between," said Moxley, also All-NSC and an individual sectional qualifier last year. "After we jog, we check our heart rates and take our pulse. It helps dictate our times and helps with our pace."

Moxley is kind of the iron man of the team, having suffered a herniated disc, fallen arch and a nagging knee injury throughout the course of the season.

"I do 1 hour of stretching every night and use lots of ice and or heat," he said. "I was encouraged to not run because of my injuries but I couldn't just quit. Actually, I've trained and run even harder."

Pack running was definitely the case as Leffelman (17:36) and Dee (17:43) was 14th and 15th, respectively.

Mehaffey was 18th with a time of 17:55 and Mike Addison 33rd (18:55).

"We have a relatively young team," said Beatty. "But we're getting better and better every race. Schaumburg's a tough sectional but getting (to state) is very attainable."

Meanwhile, the girls team is also knocking on the state meet door.

The Lady Sequoits, which qualified for sectionals as a team last year, finished fourth with 110 points.

Leading the way was senior Holly Clarke, who came in ninth with a time of 16:34.

"This is a pretty tough course, with the hills and everything," she said. "But I think the girls really stepped up today. We're just hoping for a good showing at sectionals. Getting (to state) will be difficult but we'll do the best we can."

Backing Clarke was Erin Schawba in 20th (17:13), Amanda Hammond 26th (17:26), Sara Brzezinski 29th (17:38), Divya Gollapudi 30th (17:42), Amanda Hoetzer 38th (18:27) and Laura Hammond 43rd (19:28).

At conference a week earlier, the Antioch girls finished a sub-par sixth with 157 points. Clark and Amanda Hammond were All-NSC. Clarke finished 15th and Hammond 22nd.

Sequoit netters looking to play to potential

The Antioch varsity girls' volleyball got a nice tune-up for regionals, finishing a respectable 3-2 in the prestigious "Cross-Town" Classic hosted by Libertyville and Vernon Hills. The 3-2 finish was good for seventh-place.

The tournament, which hosted 16 teams, boosted the Sequoit's to a 14-16 record overall on the season.

Antioch's first game was against conference powerhouse Mundelein. Antioch dropped the match in two games both by a score of 15-4, 15-4. In the second game, Antioch dominated Elgin, winning in straight sets 15-5 and 15-8. The Sequoits third match was against Warren, where they dropped the first two games 15-1 and 15-6. The, after a forfeit win against Round Lake, Antioch battled Zion to determine seventh and eighth-place for the tournament.

Against the Zee-Bees, Antioch dropped the first set 13-15, before rallying to take the next two 15-4 and 15-6.

The main contributor to Antioch's win over Zion was without a doubt Erica Brown. Brown finished with 9 points along with a 92 percent hitting percentage and seven kills. She also had three blocks defensively.

But Antioch received solid play from many people throughout the tournament. Catherine Vanlerberghe led the team in points with 22. Brown was the leading hitter with 20 kills, and senior Meredith Nelson went 26-for-26 hitting with 10 kills. The Sequoits main setter, junior Alex Mika, was an impressive 92-for-92 setting with 36 assists. Brown finished with six kills for the tournament.

"At times we seemed to play flat," said head coach Gwen Varney. "But at other times it seemed as if we really played well when it counted."

Antioch played Carmel Oct. 24 in the first round of the Warren regional.

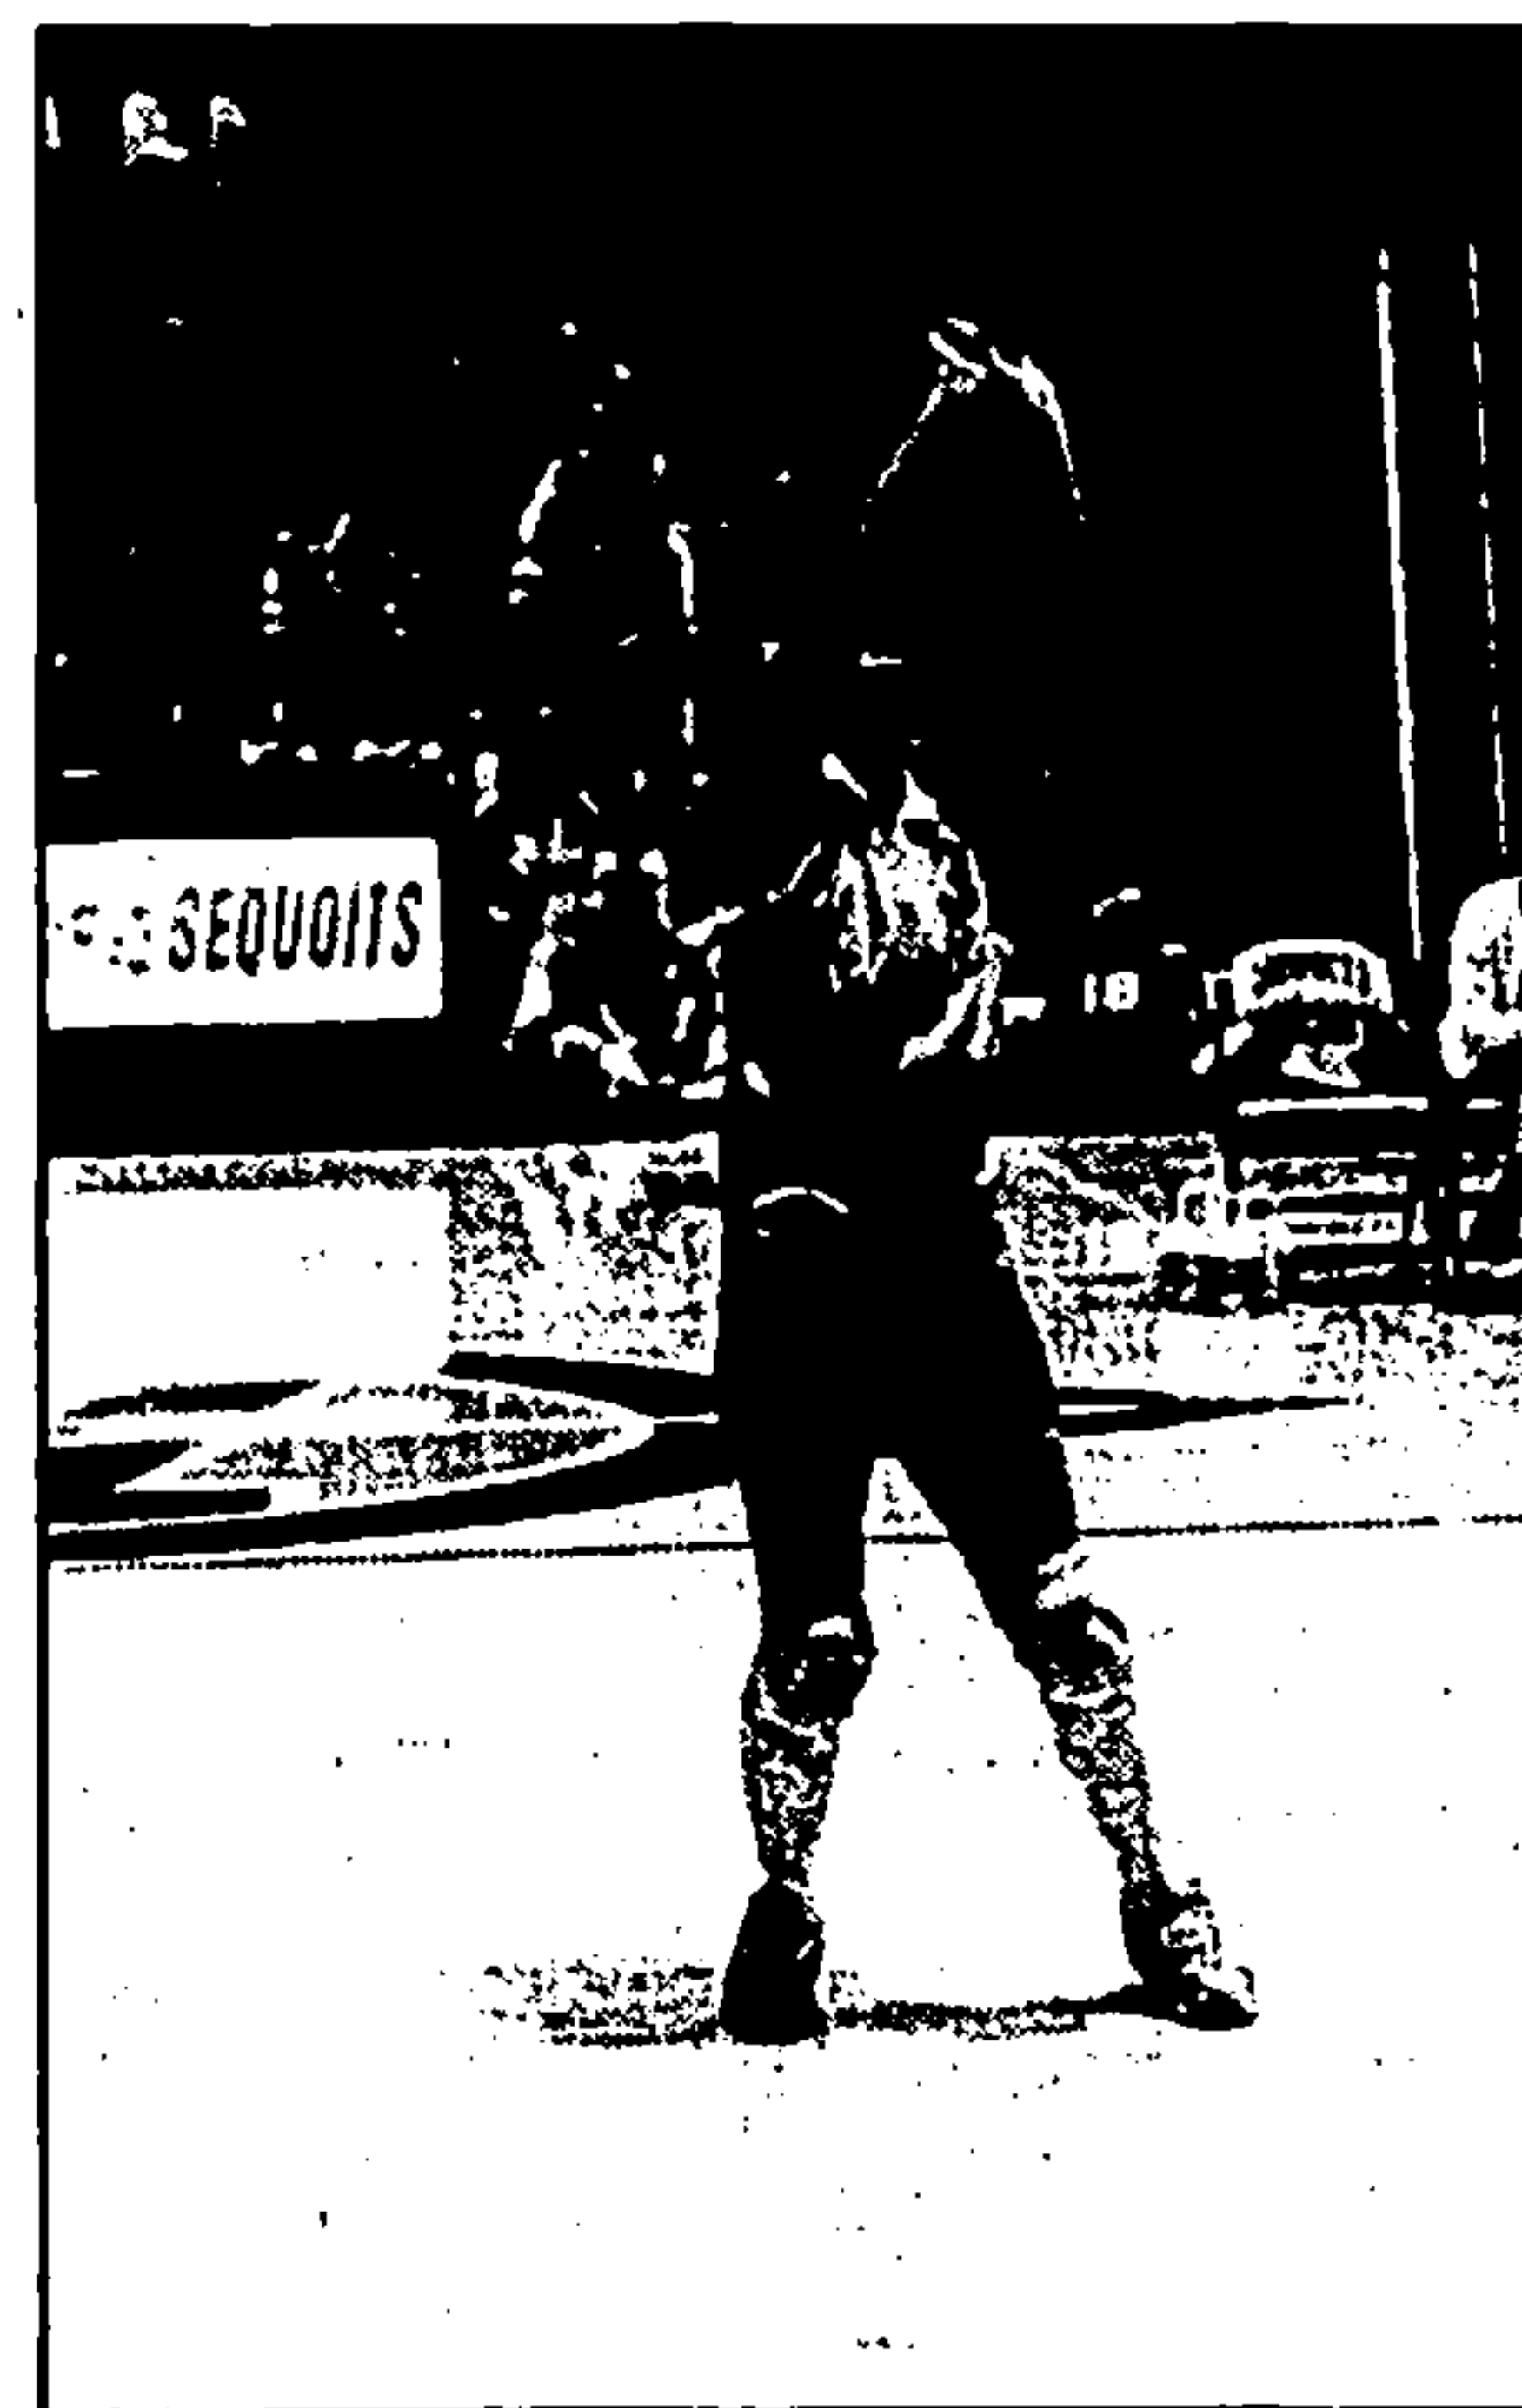

"We can beat them (Carmel) if we play to our potential," said Vanlerberghe. Throughout the year Antioch has been a very streaky team. Varney believes that the first round of the tournament is simply a matter of what team shows up.

"We can really be one of two teams," she said. "I'm just hoping it's the good team that shows up."

If Antioch pulls off the upset over Carmel, it will face the winner of the Highland Park versus Warren game in the second round of the regional tournament.

The regional title game will be held at 7 p.m. Oct. 27 at Warren's Almond campus.

ACHS flag football heads to Halas

By JOE PRUSKI
Lakeland Correspondent

Who said football was over for the season in Antioch?

While the varsity tackle football Sequoits concluded the 2001 campaign last week, there's still action going on on the gridiron—flag football-style.

The Antioch intramural flag football team will be returning to Halas Hall Oct. 27 for the second consecutive year to compete for a state flag football title.

The flag football team is one of 36 teams state-wide that compete for a shot to stand in front of a Soldier Field crowd with a state championship.

However, in order to do so, the team must get by the four team finals. The games will take place in the indoor practice field at the Bears practice facility. Antioch's first contest will be at 10 a.m.

Meanwhile, last year's flag football team lost in the semifinals at Halas Hall but won the consolation game to third overall in the state.

Antioch defeated Libertyville in the first game and Lake Forest in the second game to earn the Final Four berth.

In the deciding game, Antioch defeated St. Patrick's (Chicago) 12-6.

"Our defense is virtually unstoppable," said defensive lineman Dan Moore. "We're so amazing defensively that we overpower anything that stands in our way."

An excited Moore was also very enthusiastic about the offense side of the ball.

YOUTH SPORTS ROUNDUP

Tornado U11 boys soccer moves to impressive 7-1

The Lindhurst Tornadoes U-11 boys soccer team increased its division-leading record to 7-1 following a 2-1 victory over Chicago Pegasus. The game wasn't nearly as close as the score would indicate.

The Tornadoes dominated the first half, denying Pegasus any shots on goal. Still, Lindhurst only led 1-0 at the break thanks to a 22-yard, upper 90 blast from Eric Holst. He was assisted beautifully by Chris Staton, who rattled the crossbar later with a long cannon-shot of his own.

At halftime, the team discussed the importance of avoiding any errors that would let Pegasus back in the game. However, a foul in the penalty area 10 minutes into the second half gave the Deerfield-based team its first shot on goal—a penalty kick to tie the game.

Lindhurst turned up the pressure, controlling the play with a mix of short midfield passing and long balls to the wings, and smothering defense that refused to let Pegasus bring the ball out of its own half. The hard work paid off just two minutes prior to the final whistle, when Holst scored his second goal of the game—another 22-yard laser that beat the keeper to the far corner.

Matt Holmes and Josh Larson combined in the goal for the victory, the Tornadoes seventh in a row in YSSL league play.

Other action Soccer

In a very close game, the Lindhurst Predators U10 boys travel soccer team beat the Wauconda Fire, 2-1.

Lindhurst came back from being down one in the first half when John Androus made a powerful goal. The game remained tied until the end of the second half. That's when Robert Nogle assisted John Androus with a corner kick for the game-winning goal.

Keeper Danny Hourihan is credited with 11 saves. Other outstanding plays came from Stephen Korosis, Jack McCollum and Mitchell Post.

The U-9 Lindhurst Titans improved to 6-0-1 after posting a 3-0 victory over the Highland Park Giants Navy squad. Tony Gallo opened the scoring with the only first half goal. Goals in the second half by Josh Pohlman and Vinnie Holm helped secure the victory.

Goalkeepers Tom Stevens and Alex Grimm combined for five saves en route to their fourth shutout of the year.

Key contributors included Michael Beckman, Joey Carlborg, Nathan McMahon, Kyle Melton, Andrew Noda and Nick Stilp.

Basketball

The Northern Lake County Hoop Stars eighth-grade basketball team streaked to a 54-32 victory in semifinal play over the Kenosha Spirit to remain undefeated (6-0) in the Kenosha area Athletics Net fall program. The Hoop Stars now move to the championship game against the Racine All-stars at Tremper High School in Kenosha. During its first meeting of the season, the Hoop Stars defeated the Racine All-stars, 47-38.

"Sunday's game was a coach's dream. The boys were fired up and came to play—and everyone contributed to this victory," said Coach Mike Morrison. Mitchell Moore had his usual showing of 19 points and added 4 assists and 4 rebounds. Benny Morrison tipped in 10 points while adding 6 assists and 4 rebounds. Alex Swank seemed to always be positioned under the net, grabbing 5 rebounds and scoring 8 points. Ricky Green, averaging 93 percent from the free-throw line for the season, hit on all four of his attempts. He also scored a hard driving lay-up and dished 4 assists. Marcus Lewis and Kevin Wozniak scored 5 and 4 points, respectively. Back on defense, Andy Richter continued to have sticky palms by grabbing 3 steals.

The coaching staff includes Tom Wozniak, John Nelson and Morrison. The Northern Lake County Hoop Stars Program Founder and Director is Gene Woltjer.

Medications Matter

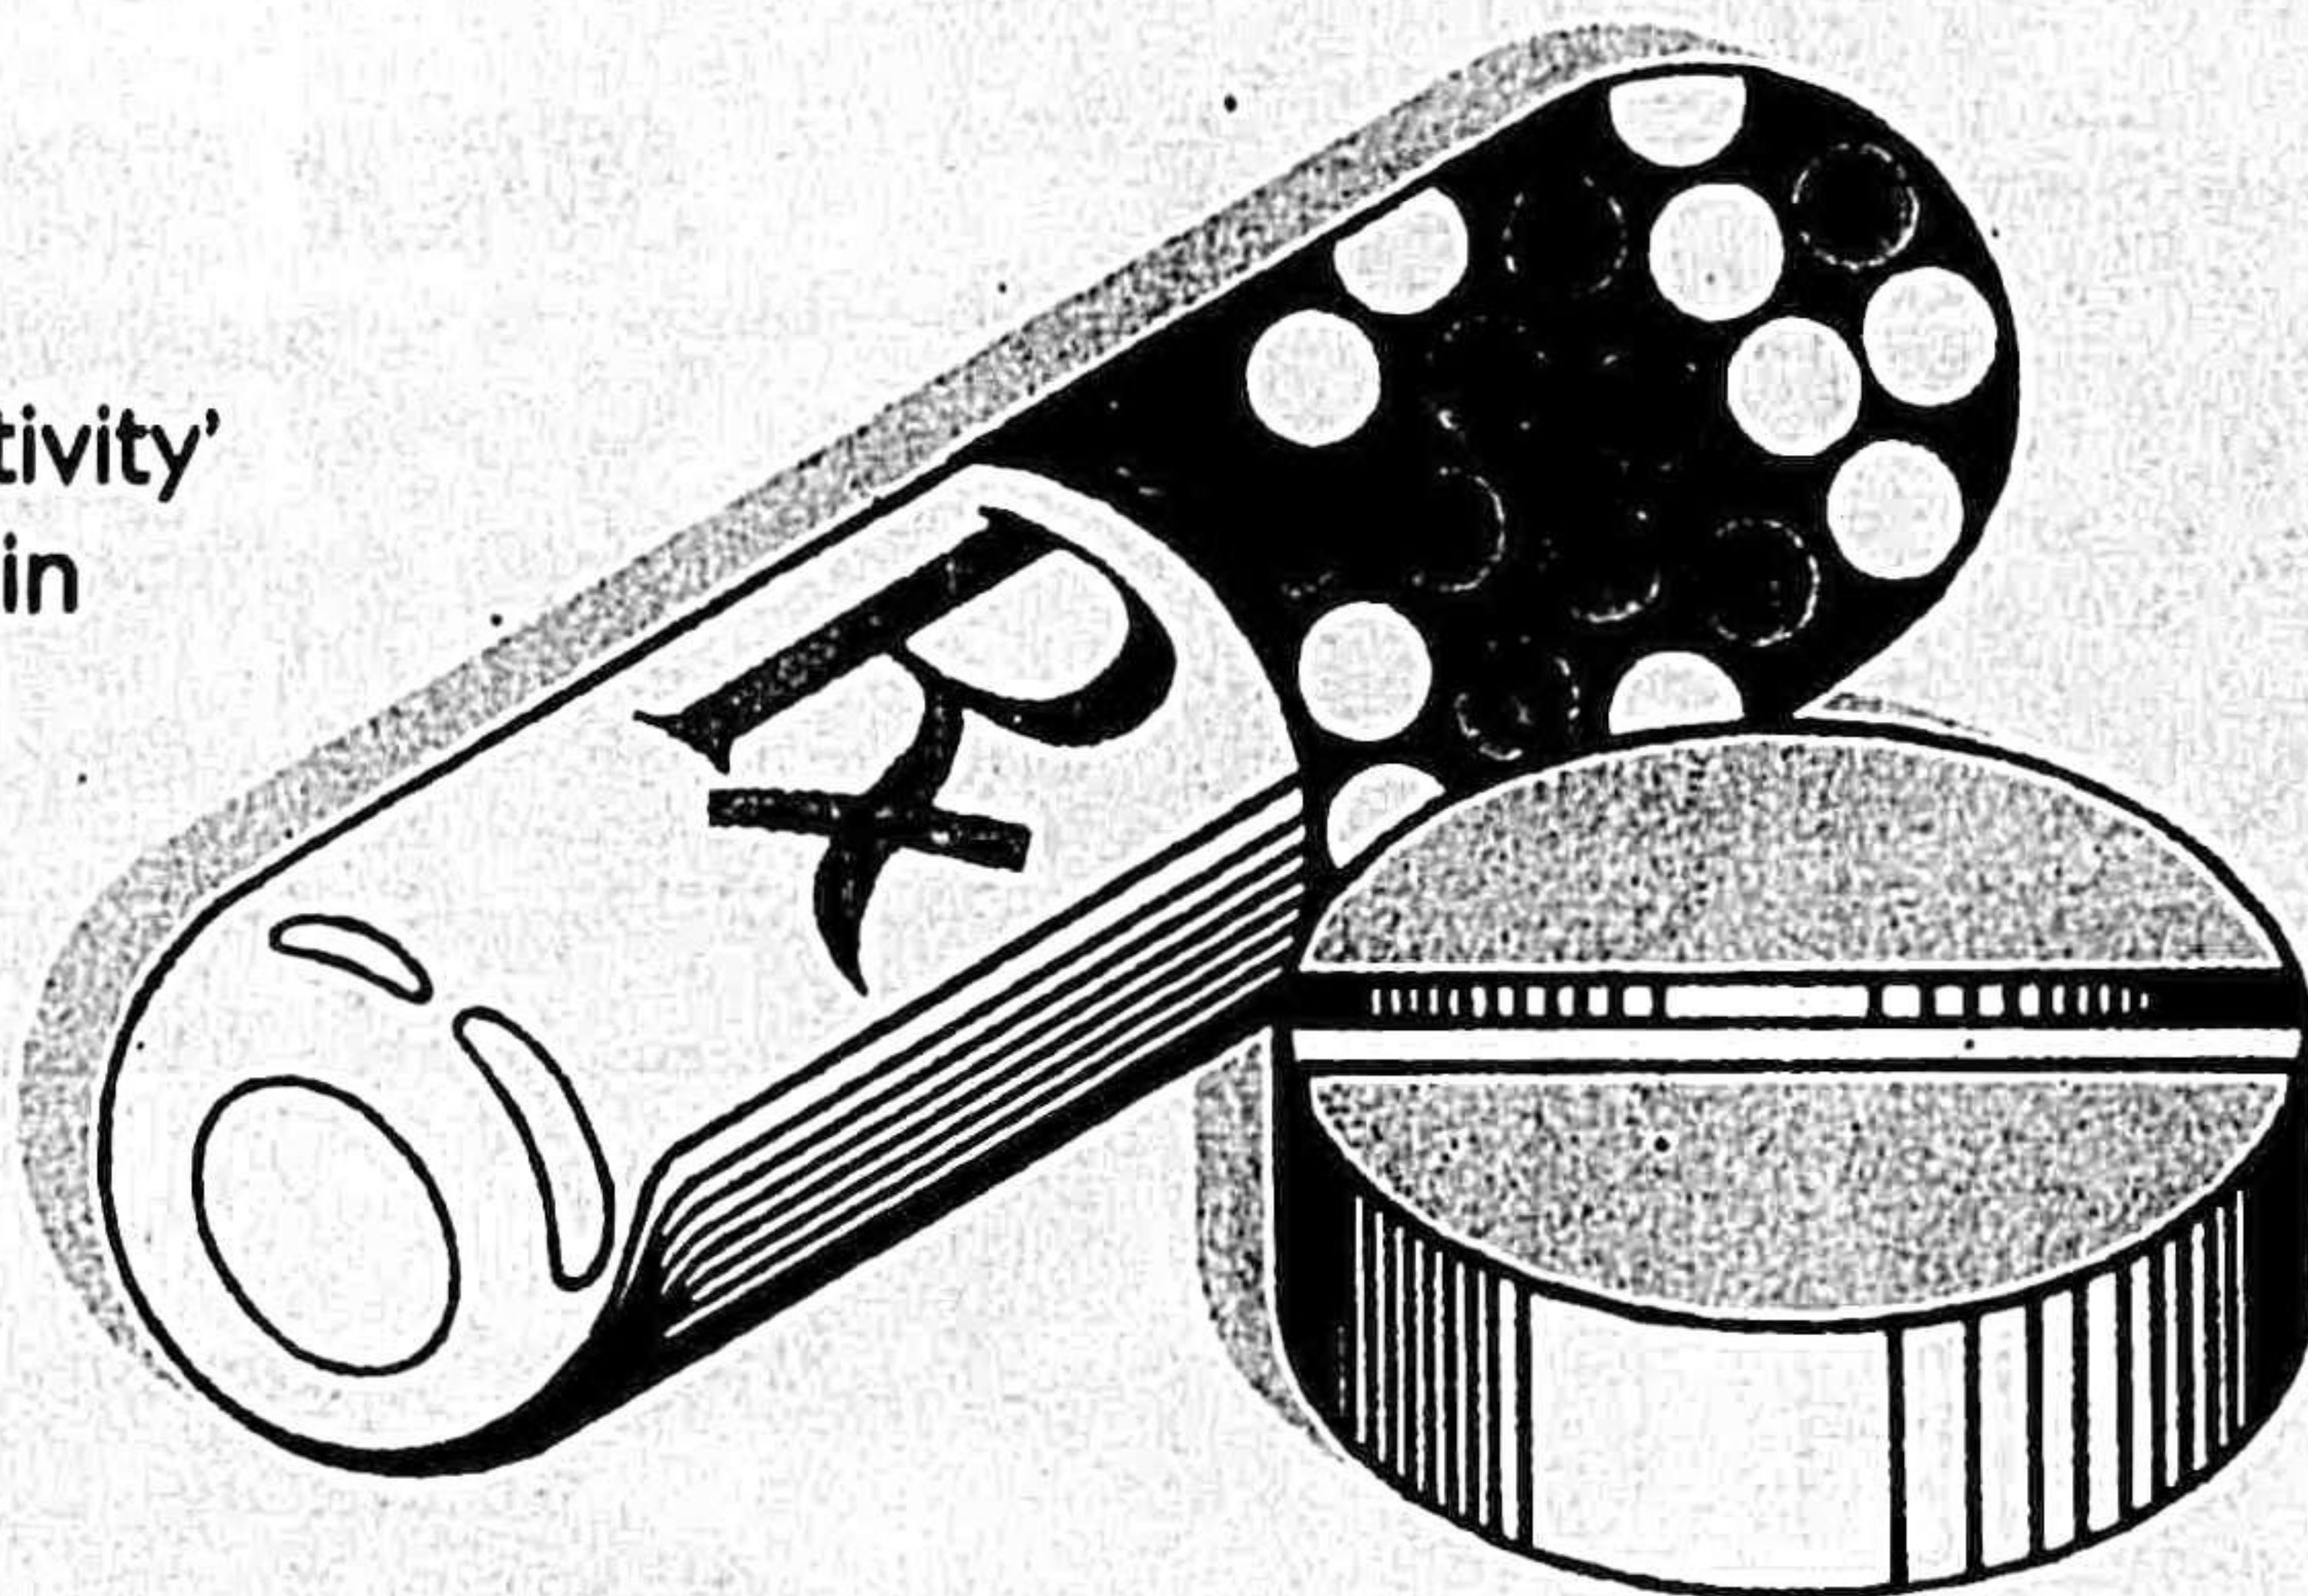

The 'photosensitivity' caused by certain prescription drugs can make you more likely to develop sunburn, itching or rashes when tanning.

Let your doctor or pharmacist know that you are tanning when filling a prescription.

If you believe your body is affected by a photosensitive substance, limit your exposure or do not tan.

If you have begun taking a medication or have changed medication, let the salon operator know before your tanning session. They will be able to tell you if it is a type that will heighten your ultraviolet light sensitivity.

Grave matters

History is carved in (head) stones in Lake County's oldest cemeteries

By BRENDA BALIN-REISCHER
Staff Reporter

On Halloween, it is traditional to display the icons of death: skeletons, ghosts and tomb stones. The boneyard is celebrated as a place where the dead reside, hopefully, in peace.

Most other times of the year, our exposure to cemeteries is primarily limited to those sorrowful occasions when loved ones are laid to rest. We seldom stop to notice, in our daily travels, the many stones and monuments that dot the landscape of the county, marking the lives of those who built the countryside into communities.

A tour of just a few of the cemeteries of northern Lake County becomes a near-addictive thing, as each inquiry leads to another, and one learns that dead men do, indeed, tell tales.

Consider, for example, the case of Rev. Hummel, an early pastor of Long Grove Community Church.

According to church legend, the pastor was a teetotaler, abhorring the use of alcoholic beverages. One day, the Ladies' Aide Society, including Mrs. Hummel, took a touch of wine at their meeting. When Rev. Hummel discovered this, he became outraged, and forced the issue with his congregation.

Those who enjoyed wine left the church, forming St. Peter's Church in Lake Zurich. As the story goes, the exiled congregation enlisted the help of St. Peter, the gatekeeper of Heaven.

Please see GRAVE / LL7

At far right, the gate at the entrance to the Long Grove Cemetery, near the village's downtown shopping area, is no longer used as it once was with horses and buggies. Above, The first graves at Long Grove Cemetery date back to the 1840s.—Photos by Sandy Bressner

COOKING by the BOOK Tom Witom

Pears add extra touch to Tuscan stew

Mary Ann Esposito, who has written extensively on Italian cuisine, takes time to get into some regional specialties in her latest book, "Ciao Italia: Bringing Italy Home" (St. Martin's Press, New York, 2001, 336 pages). In her travels to Tuscany, she brought back a tasty recipe for Peposo (Tuscan tilemakers' stew). It's a simple and straightforward dish, typical of the region. And it satisfies in the taste department, too. Esposito notes that Italian cookery has "four evangelists": carrots, celery, onions, and parsley. You'll find these flavor enhancers in this main-course dish, plus an unusual ingredient: pears.

- 1 carrot, scraped and cut into quarters
- 1 medium onion, peeled and quartered
- 1 rib celery, cut in half
- 3 large sprigs parsley
- 4 cloves garlic
- 4 whole basil leaves
- 2 Tbl fresh marjoram
- 1 Tbl fresh mint
- 2 Tbl fresh rosemary needles
- 4 whole sage leaves
- 1/3 cup extra-virgin olive oil
- 1 1/4 pounds of stew beef, trimmed of all visible fat and cut into 1-inch cubes
- 1 1/2 tsp. fine sea salt
- 1 Tbl coarsely ground black pepper
- 1 cup Vin Santo or Moscato wine (see note)
- 2 cups hot beef broth
- 1 Tbl whole green peppercorns on vinegar, drained
- Grated zest of 1 lemon
- 1 whole bay leaf
- 3 ripe William, Anjou or Bartlett pears

In a food processor or with a chef's knife, mince together the carrot, onion, celery, parsley, garlic, basil, thyme, marjoram, mint, rosemary, and sage. Set it aside.

In an ovenproof 10 1/2 x 2 1/2 inch sauté pan, heat 2 tablespoons of the olive oil and stir in the minced vegetables and herbs. Sauté them, stirring occasionally, until they soften; but do not let them brown. Transfer the ingredients to a dish and set it aside.

Preheat the oven to 300 degrees F.

Dry the meat with paper towels; sprinkle the meat with salt and pepper. Add the remaining olive oil to the pan and when the oil begins to simmer, add the meat and sauté, turning the pieces frequently to brown them. When there is no more liquid in the pan, raise the heat to high, add the wine and allow it to reduce by half. Lower the heat and pour in the beef broth to cover the meat. Return the vegetable mixture to the pan and stir in the peppercorns and the lemon zest. Add the bay leaf. Cover the pan and bake in the oven for 1 hour.

Peel and core the pears. Dice 2 of the pears, then cover and set them aside. Puree the remaining pear in a food processor or blender until it is smooth.

Stir the pureed pear into the meat mixture. Cover the pan and bake for an additional 1 1/2 hours, adding more broth if necessary. Five minutes before the meat is done, add the diced pears and remove the bay leaf. Serve immediately. The stew can also be refrigerated for several days.

Note: We weren't able to find these wines and substituted Chardonnay, which worked well.

Protect pets from Halloween tricks

Trick-or-treaters will soon be roaming the neighborhood and, while Halloween is great fun for children, it can be frightening, and even dangerous, for the family pet.

From chocolate to noise to burning candles, there are dangers in this holiday. Best Friends Pet Resorts recommends that pet owners take precautions to keep Fido and Fluffy safe during Halloween festivities.

Danger: From Candy to Candles

Halloween candy presents a serious hazard for pets. Chocolate, in particular, is toxic for dogs. Just one ounce can be life threatening for a dog that weighs less than 10 pounds. Unfortunately, chocolate's aroma is appealing to dogs. If you suspect your pet has consumed chocolate, treat it as a medical emergency.

Even candy wrappers can present problems. Your dog may consume the wrapping, which can become caught in his digestive tract, causing serious illness and even death. Keep all candy out of pets' reach.

Burning decorations are another concern. A wagging tail can knock over a lit candle, causing injury to the pet—and the possibility of fire. Other decorations and costume pieces can cause gastrointestinal and choking hazards.

Scary Sights and Sounds

The frequently ringing doorbell and shouting children, coupled with the strange masks and make-up, can create anxiety for many pets. If a pet helps greet trick-or-treaters, use a happy tone of voice when answering the door. Ask one or two visitors to hand your dog a treat. If your pet is still frightened, keep him in another room.

Even dogs that are comfortable with the holiday routine of the evening should be kept leashed to ensure they don't run out an open door in pursuit of trick-or-treaters.

Never leave pets out-of-doors unattended on Halloween; they can become the victims of Halloween pranksters. Black cats, in particular, are at risk for cruel tricks.

To Costume or Not?

The decision about whether to dress your pet in costume and take him trick-or-treating really depends upon your pet. If your pet is the curious type and loves dressing up, you may want to include him in the fun. Choose a costume that won't restrict your pet's movement in any way. Avoid masks or hats that cover his eyes. And don't forget his identification tags.

Introduce his costume ahead of time, the experts at Best Friends say, putting on one piece at a time. Make a fuss over how great he looks, and allow him to get accustomed to wearing it at home before taking him out trick-or-treating.

For more information on pet care topics, visit the Best Friends web site at www.bestfriendspetcare.com or call 888-FOR-PETS.

'Wait Until Dark' thrills and chills

A murder mystery, thriller, "Wait Until Dark," has opened at The Estonian House, Estonian Lane, just off of Milwaukee Avenue and north of Deerfield Road in Lincolnshire.

"Wait Until Dark" was presented in New York in 1966 with Lee Remick and Robert Duval and was directed by Arthur Penn. It is a story of a young blind woman, a doll filled with heroin and a ruthless con man who will stop at nothing to get it back. When Susy Hendrix begins to see through the scheme and senses the real danger she faces, she levels the playing field and sets the stage for one of the most dramatic final showdowns ever staged. Bring along a friend so you have someone's arm to grab as the action elevates.

The original 1966 New York production of "Wait Until Dark" earned Lee Remick a Tony nomination for outstanding dramatic actress for her portrayal of Susy. Audrey Hepburn received an Oscar nomination for the same role in the 1967 film.

The play runs through Nov. 10 with shows on Fridays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 4 p.m. Tickets are $15; students, seniors, members and military $12; and groups (8 or more) $10.

With a desire to interest young people in live theatre, there is a special discount to students. On Thursday nights, students can invite parents to the theatre with the cost for a student and parent $5 each. In addition, there is a two for one ticket price on Thursday nights. Call 432-7469 for reservations.

Handling the real spooks

Halloween is an opportune time to deal with fears and phobias, our real spooks and goblins. An estimated 18 percent of the U.S. adult population suffers from some kind of phobia. Given the recent terrorist events, many more Americans now have fears of flying and entering tall buildings and other public areas. If you consider the irrational thoughts and behavior that a fear often creates, then just about everyone is "spooked" by their own personal demons.

There are over 500 phobias known and it seems that you can have an intense, unrealistic fear of just about anything. Now there is an easy-to-use technique to remove phobias, quickly and usually permanently. It's called EFT (The Emotional Freedom Techniques). This new strategy works by simply tapping on a series of stress-relief points on the body. You can use EFT to clear stuck emotions and self-defeating patterns, producing profound breakthroughs.

Phillip Mountrose is the author of the award-winning "Getting Thru to Kids" books. With his wife Jane Mountrose, he co-wrote "Getting Thru to our Emotions with EFT: Tap into our Hidden Potential with the Emotional Freedom Techniques."

For more information of EFT visit the web site at www.gettingthru.org.

SPECIAL EVENT

Assisi Animal Foundation honors Sept. 11 heroes

On Nov. 3, the Assisi Animal Foundation will host true American heroes who raced from the Midwest with their trained rescue canines to search for survivors of the Sept. 11 attacks.

This year's annual benefit for the Assisi Animal Foundation will have the theme, "With A Little Help From My Friends," focusing on the organization's much appreciated volunteers and supporters. Surprised that the events of Sept. 11 could occur, individuals in police, fire, and paramedic work disregarded personal safety for their determination to do everything possible to help find and rescue survivors of the horrid attacks—they represent courage.

On Saturday evening, Nov. 3, a number of these heroes, as well as their amazing dogs, will receive awards for their selfless work in rescue attempts. The Assisi Animal Foundation benefit Dinner Dance and Auction, at the Crystal Lake Country Club in Crystal Lake, will recognize the heroes who played such an important role in search and rescue efforts. Attendees and members are looking forward to the privilege of meeting and speaking with true heroes during this event.

Some tickets are still available for the evening, beginning at 6 p.m. with cocktails and reception followed by dinner and dancing. The eight-member orchestra of Bob Gand will provide music. Crystal Lake's Holiday Inn is extending its hospitality to these men in appreciation as well.

For information on how to take part, please call the Assisi Animal Foundation at 815-455-9411.

World premieres at Giordano concerts

Three world premieres will be featured at Gus Giordano Jazz Dance Chicago's fall concerts, Oct. 26-28, at Chicago's Athenaeum Theatre. The new works are choreographed by Washington, D.C.-based Tony Powell, GGJDC Rehearsal Director Jon Lehrer and GGJDC Artistic Director Nan Giordano. The reconstruction of an award-winning classic by Gus Giordano will also be premiered at the concerts.

Tony Powell's "Rapture," set to the music of minimalist composer Steve Reich, features the entire company in the choreographer's vision of "emotional or spiritual ecstasy." Powell has set over fifty works in his own company, including the Joffrey Ballet of Chicago.

"Bridge and Tunnel," set to the music of Paul Simon, is choreographer Jon Lehrer's take on his high school years in Queens, New York. The fun and games of after-school sports, the support of family and friends, choosing a girlfriend without losing friends, and celebrating the joy of youth—all are part of this nostalgic, light-hearted dance.

"Taal" is choreographer Nan Giordano's unique blend of Indian and jazz rhythms set to the music of Anuradha, Sunu A.R. Rahman, and S. Jhata. To the music's "beautiful sounds and percussive beats," eight dancers intertwine with 100 feet of fabric, evoking the look and feel of India.

Also premiered at these concerts will be "The Rehearsal," a dramatic duet about the relationship between two dancers, by Gus Giordano to the music of Cat Stevens. A television version done that year for PBS won both an Emmy Award and the Ohio State Award. In this reconstruction, Giordano was assisted by former GGJDC dancer Julie Walder Johnson, who organized the role of the woman dancer.

The dance concerts, sponsored by the Evanston and Lincoln Park Athletic Clubs, are at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 26 & 27, and at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 28, at the Athenaeum Theatre, 2936 N. Southport, Chicago. Tickets ($20 and $16 for seniors/students) are available at the box office, Ticketmaster outlets, or by calling 312-902-1500.

Christmas at the Faire

the time to go a-rakeling

Paula Buttel, left, and Carol King are the tour de force behind Christmas at the Faire, the glamorous, eclectic holiday market featuring the work of 80 traditional, contemporary and folk artists. The event is Oct. 26, 27, and 28 at DuPage County Fairgrounds, Wheaton. Admission is $5.

It's certain. If Christmas has a queen, it would be Carol King. She's the holiday spirit that makes the tree stand just a little taller, and its lights twinkle just a mite brighter. She gives Santa's work a lift and helps provide just the right gift. That's because she's the original Christmas Carol.

Actually, she's Carol King, a Western Springs, Ill. artist who will stage her 27th Annual Christmas at the Faire show Friday, Oct. 26, Saturday, Oct. 27 and Sunday, Oct. 28, at the DuPage County Fairgrounds in Wheaton. King is the creator of the Carol King Collections, a unique line of wooden Christmas tree ornaments and other decorative accessories.

The Christmas at the Faire tradition started in 1974 when King and a handful of her friends stages the "Gingerbread Boutique" in her home as a means of sharing their mutual adoration of the sights, sounds and aromas of Christmas. It has now matured into a holiday market that showcases the talent of 80 traditional, folk and contemporary artists. And along the way it has come to represent the formal opening of the Christmas shopping season for an estimated 6,000 annual visitors, some from as far away as Ohio, Missouri and Oregon.

While Christmas is the Faire's primary focus, the eclectic juried market caters to other seasonal themes as well. Halloween and harvest motifs abound. Other vignettes concentrate on sophisticated winter gardens, French country cottage style and cozy, plum pudding-style settings.

And whether you go to savor the sights, sounds and aromas of Christmas or bask in the other enchanting themes, the dazzling atmosphere comes courtesy of King and her partner, Paula Buttel. The pair spend the full week prior to the show distilling the essence of the holidays as they personally stage each display, designing festive settings, each enhanced with fresh Christmas trees, evergreen boughs and swags.

Show hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Friday, Oct. 26; 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 27; and 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 28. Admission of $5.

'Recent Works' exhibition opens at CLC; winners announced

Fifty-nine artworks selected in the College of Lake County's 21st annual juried exhibition for Lake County artists are showcased in the "Recent Works" exhibition currently underway in the Robert T. Wright Community Gallery of Art. The exhibit will continue through Nov. 4.

The artworks were chosen from nearly 300 entries submitted by artists who live or work in Lake County. The exhibit features painting, sculpture, ceramics, photography, computer graphics and woodwork. The jurors for the competition were Stephen Luecking, a Chicago sculptor, writer and critic; and Riva Lehrer, a painter.

Winners of this year's competition are as follows:

Awards of Excellence in the amount of $300 - Feng-Hua Cheng of Gages Lake and Doug Smithenry of Highwood.

Awards of Merit in the amount of $100 - Linda Kardoff of Grayslake, Ginny Krueger-Woltzen of Lake Villa, David Roth of Lake Forest and Greg K. Yingst of Waukegan.

Honorable Mentions - Robert G. Andrus of Gurnee, David Engle of Barrington and Kathy Weaver of Highland Park.

CLC Purchase Awards - Ellen Rose of Lake Zurich and Judy Wickert of Lincolnshire.

The exhibit is partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency. The gallery is a project of the CLC Foundation. The exhibition hours are 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 1-5 p.m. Sunday. For information, call 543-2240.

Ladies of Harley support A Safe Place

The Lake Shore HOG Chapter's Ladies of Harley took a beautiful fall cruise on the roadways to Holly Hill, raising $1,600 in raffle money along the way to benefit the comprehensive shelter, counseling and advocacy programs of A Safe Place/Lake County Crisis Center.

LOH spokeswoman Anne Justice said the new raffle to provide support for survivors of domestic violence and their children is just one of several benefits this chapter conducts each year. A sponsor of the successful Lambs Farm's Ride for the last five years, LOH also collects teddy bears and other stuffed animals for the Waukegan Police Department to give to children involved in accidents, family violence or abuse.

The group also plans to volunteer at the primary shelter location of A Safe Place during the winter holiday period, assisting in organizing the holiday store where donations can be selected by the program's clients for their families' holiday gifts.

A Safe Place provides shelter, court advocacy and comprehensive counseling services to residents of Lake, McHenry, and northern Cook counties. Last year the agency provided 13,650 nights of shelter and assisted victims of domestic violence in obtaining more than 1,700 orders of protection. Nonresidential counseling services were utilized by 2,131 clients. A 24-hour HELP LINE can be reached by calling 249-4450, TTY 249-6557.

George St. John, caretaker of the Long Grove Cemetery, goes over records of some of its residents. The cemetery began as a German resting place in the 1840s.—Photo by Sandy Bressner

When Rev. Hummel died in 1918, he was himself exiled from Heaven, and forced to walk the church grounds forever.

The "evidence" of this haunting is that, although a headstone marks Rev. Hummel's grave in the back of the cemetery, no record of the burial exists in any church record.

Furthermore, a strange blue mist is said to appear inside the church, and every so often, the bell tower rope mysteriously breaks. Some say the pastor's footsteps can be heard on the tower stairs. Some say he rings the church bell, his ghostly hands severing the rope.

The cemetery has been in use since 1847, when Maria Sandman was buried there. True to her name, she rests more quietly than the peripatetic pastor does.

The church's early German population is represented by a large number of German-language headstones.

A row of children's plots lines the eastern edge of the cemetery. The plots were started in the 1930's.

"There are some plots with entire families buried within 2-3 weeks of each other," said trustee George St. John. Parents and children were laid to rest side-by-side, killed by the influenza epidemics of the 1880s.

Burial at Long Grove is still reserved for those who are active members of the church.

Heading north, one finds Ivanhoe Cemetery, on Rte. 178, east of Fairfield Road. The Ladies' Aide Society of a church played an important role in the founding of this historic cemetery as well.

According to Dorothy Dolph, secretary of the Ivanhoe Cemetery Association, members of the Ivanhoe Community Church met in members' homes from the time the church was founded in 1838 until the church was built in 1856.

During the early years, church member Esther Payne, who died in 1847, was buried in what is now the cemetery. In 1852, the Ladies' Aide Society of the church raised money to build a fence around what had become a formal burial ground.

Originally a church cemetery, the graveyard went public after incorporating in 1872. At that time, the cost of a burial plot was $2.50. At present, it costs $500 for a plot in the cemetery.

Dolph could not recall any graveyard ghosts, but the cemetery does have some historical figures buried in it.

Prominent among those resting in Ivanhoe is James Joice, who brought his family to Ivanhoe from Kentucky after the Civil War.

The Joice family is the only African-American family buried at Ivanhoe. The church was a stop on the Underground Railroad.

James brought his wife, Jemima, and his children Sarah (also known as "Sally") and Asa to live with him on 14 acres of farmland. James died in 1872, at the age of 65.

Asa was the first African-American to hold elected office in Lake County. He was Ivanhoe's town constable and highway commissioner. He was born in 1860 and died in 1924, four months after he was declared insane and sent to Elgin.

In every old cemetery, there are graves whose occupants are unknown either because the records are missing or the headstones have disintegrated, or both. At Ivanhoe, one unknown came in that way.

"There was an unidentified man in the county morgue for two years," explained Jack Frederick, one of the trustees of the graveyard. The cemetery association agreed to provide a grave, and a local funeral parlor provided the burial. The grave is at the western edge of the cemetery, with a small marker that says only "John Doe."

On the opposite end of the spectrum from obscurity is celebrity. Am Echod Cemetery, on Grand Avenue, in Waukegan, is host to parents of the city's most famous past resident, Jack Benny.

Benny was born Benjamin Kubelsky, and his parents, Mayer and Emma, rest in an unassuming double plot. Emma, whose stone is inscribed with her Hebrew name, Naomi, died in 1917. She was buried in Chicago, but her body was moved to rest next to her husband's in 1949. Meyer died in 1946.

The cemetery, the only Jewish one in the county, is run by the Am Echod Cemetery Association, and accepts anyone Jewish who wants to be buried there. The 4-acre cemetery also has a special section created to accommodate non-Jewish spouses.

Some cemeteries predate the villages where they are located. Angola Cemetery, in Lake Villa, was chartered in 1898, three years before the village itself.

An early parcel of land, owned by the Burnett family, was sold to the burial association, then known as the Avon and Antioch Cemetery Society, in 1864. The cemetery predates that deed, however.

A plaque at the gates of the cemetery reads, "Angola Cemetery, 1840—Given in memory of John K. Cribb, died March 12, 1978." The first burial recorded in Angola was Fanny Parker, who died in 1842. Her husband Abel followed in 1857.

The cemetery had, according to published reports, already been closed "for many years" by 1980. Now at capacity, the graveyard has a few reserved plots belonging mostly to descendants of the families originally buried there.

One such family is the Cribb family. Cribbs trace their ancestry back to the early years of the village. At the centennial dinner held in February, Beatrice Cribb, 94, was honored as the oldest living female resident of Lake Villa.

A family tragedy is suggested in a pair of grave markers: Elizabeth Cribb, 1823-1852, and her son Jacob H. Cribb, 1852-1853.

Angola trustee Jay Cribb, son of the aforementioned John K., explained how the cemetery has fallen on hard times.

"We used to charge only $150 for a plot, when everyone around was charging $400 or more," he said. The state-mandated perpetual care fund began to exhaust itself. The association expects to run out of money for maintenance in about a year.

"We're still hoping for help from the township," Cribb said, noting the historical value of the graveyard.

Some of the many other historical cemeteries in the county are Millburn, on Grass Lake Road and Rte. 45; Avon Center, on Sherwood Road, west of Rte. 83; Sand Lake, on Grand Avenue, west of Rte. 83; Grass Lake, on Grass Lake Road; Home Oaks, on Deep Lake Road; Half Day, at Rtes. 21 and 22; Grayslake Cemetery and Grant Cemetery. Along any country road, one might find another small graveyard.

Drew Barrymore as Beverly Donofrio and Cody Arens as her son Jason in Columbia's "Riding in Cars with Boys."

High and low roads traveled on 'Ride'

I always knew that getting pregnant at 15 was a bad idea, but until now, I didn't realize that making a movie about it could be almost as messy a proposition. Based on Beverly Donofrio's autobiography of the same name, "Riding in Cars with Boys" attempts to take us on a trip from the mid-'60s to the mid-'80s, as Drew Barrymore portrays Beverly aging from 15 to 35. The journey is implausibly narrated in flashback by Bev's grown son, Jason (Adam Garcia).

The Morgan Upton Ward script is a near miss, as it unpeels the layers of three generations of family dysfunction. It hits plot pot-holes as it never gives us a clear idea of how

You only hurt the ones you love is among the clichés covered in "Riding in Cars with Boys." Though the movie and script are predictable in some respects, it successfully drives home the point that words can often carry a punishing weight.

The story unfolds flashback-style and opens windows into Bev's (Drew Barrymore) life of happenstance that leads to the present day.

The movie honestly addressed the confusion a 15-year-old girl might feel as her life moves from a comfortable middle-class drone to an uncertain edge life in public

the well-brought-up daughter of a policeman (James Woods) could turn out so badly, or how, 20 years later, in spite of a shotgun marriage to an incipient junkie (Steve Zahn), a half-educated, self-centered young girl could manage to get through college, raise a son, write a book and change social class in five easy lessons.

Zahn gives a credible performance as a not-very-bright but good-hearted boy who never grows up. His descent into addiction is a painful thing to watch. More painful is Penny Marshall's attempt to yank humor from drug withdrawal.

In the end, we are subject to a whiny playing of the blame game, as mother and son mutually accuse each other of destroying their lives.

For skidding over the potentially interesting story and going for the easy laughs, I give this movie 2 1/2 popcorn boxes. Hold the butter (and the schmaltz), please.—By Brenda Balin-Beitscher about 9 years old, steals the show as a precocious 5-year-old at the time when Bev asks Ray to leave for the sake of the family. Though the language seemed a little too sophisticated for one so young, Arens' emotional display couldn't have been more realistic.

In the end, father always knows best and Ray imparts his words of wisdom to Jason (through his drunken stupor) as Pop (James Woods) welcomes Bev back into his heart.

A movie capable of bringing laughs and tears is deserving of 3 1/2 popcorn boxes.—By Julie Murphy

Heartfelt 'Mother Courage' hits home

The senselessness of war - and the struggle to get through - are at the heart of Bertolt Brecht's "Mother Courage and Her Children."

And Eric Simonson, directing this classic play at Steppenwolf Theatre, successfully captures a bleak and harrowing 12-year stint of the 30 Years War, between 1624 and 1636. In one haunting scene after another, Mother Courage, an indefatigable vendor, drags her tattered supply cart through battle-scarred Sweden, Poland, Saxony and Bavaria.

Hardened by suffering, she observes how defeat is for generals and how winning or losing makes little difference for those at the bottom rungs. She finds little solace wandering here and there to peddle her goods, likening herself to a butcher's dog: "I deliver the meat but get none for myself."

Courage's deprivation goes far beyond food; by play's end all those closest to her have fallen.

Lois Smith takes this challenging role and runs with it, creating a crusty, though survivor who relies on her own reputation and profound doggedness to plod from one sorrowful day to the next.

Other exceptional performances come from Sally Murphy as the daughter who, though she utters not a word, speaks volumes; Joe Foust and Ian Brennan, as the sons; Robert Breuler, the flirtatious cook; Nicholas Rudall, the sidetracked chaplain, and Larry Yando, the besotted commanding officer.

Original music by T. Bone Burnett and Darrell Leonard, backed by five-piece band, is sprinkled throughout the drama ("A Soldier's Drinking Song," "The Song of the Great Capitulation") and underscores Brecht's string narrative. And special movement effects created by Joe Dempsey effectively create the illusion of the cart traveling over desolate terrain.

"Mother Courage" is about strife from another era, but with the recent terrorism events in this country, its message hits home even more powerfully.

The play runs through Nov. 4, and ticket information is available at 312-335-1650. —By Tom Witom

CURTAINS UP

Actors and Musicians.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

The impending holiday puts you into a festive mood. Don your favorite Halloween get-up and make your rounds at local costume parties. Be careful, however, you could get in over your head and regret having overindulged. Some rest will take care of your situation.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

When your partner wants to host a Halloween party you're less than thrilled, Taurus. Keep an open mind and stop being bull-headed. You're bound to have an enjoyable time — you may even be the life of the party. Expect a friend from your past to make an appearance where you least expect on Wednesday.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

You're giving in to your alter ego this week, Gemini, and it's not pleasant. It's time to stifle that short temper and keep your opinions to yourself. Not everyone appreciates constructive criticism. Let loose at a holiday party to de-stress in a fun environment. Expect good news on Friday.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

That business opportunity that was mentioned several months ago will finally come to fruition, Cancer. It's time you finally get your big break. Your newfound good news will spark several projects you've since kept on the back burner. Even family members will join in to lend a hand. Enjoy your much-deserved prosperity.

Leo - July 23/August 23

An estranged family member wants to reconcile this week, Leo. Put your pride aside and accept the apology — after all blood is thicker than water. Your relationship with your partner continues to be enhanced positively when an unexpected gift puts you in the mood for romance.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

You've been a little bit too charitable this week, Virgo. It's time to graciously say "no" to a few people who require your help. You may find you'd rather focus your attention on a pet whose been a close companion lately, and a confidant who doesn't judge your actions. Thoughts to expand your family begin to surface.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

You're at your wit's end with your current situation at home, Libra. It's time to make a drastic change. You may have to enlist the help of a family member to get you started with your plans for change. Expect some good news on Monday.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

You're making the most of your birthday month to enjoy the festivities of the season. A daytrip to a vineyard or pumpkin picking will provide a respite from your overly-ambitious schedule. Take some time to just savor the moment and resolve not to think about problems or work until Sunday.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

The cooler weather has recharged your sluggish thinking. You decide to embark on an intensive fitness plan, starting with a trip to the local gym to sign up for a membership. Consult a doctor before beginning — you don't want to indulge in anything that will compromise your health.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

It's time to stop juggling two love interests, Capricorn. They're bound to find out what you've been doing, which can only end in tears for all involved. Rather, list the positive and negative traits each possesses and choose the one who best complements your personality. You already know who that is.

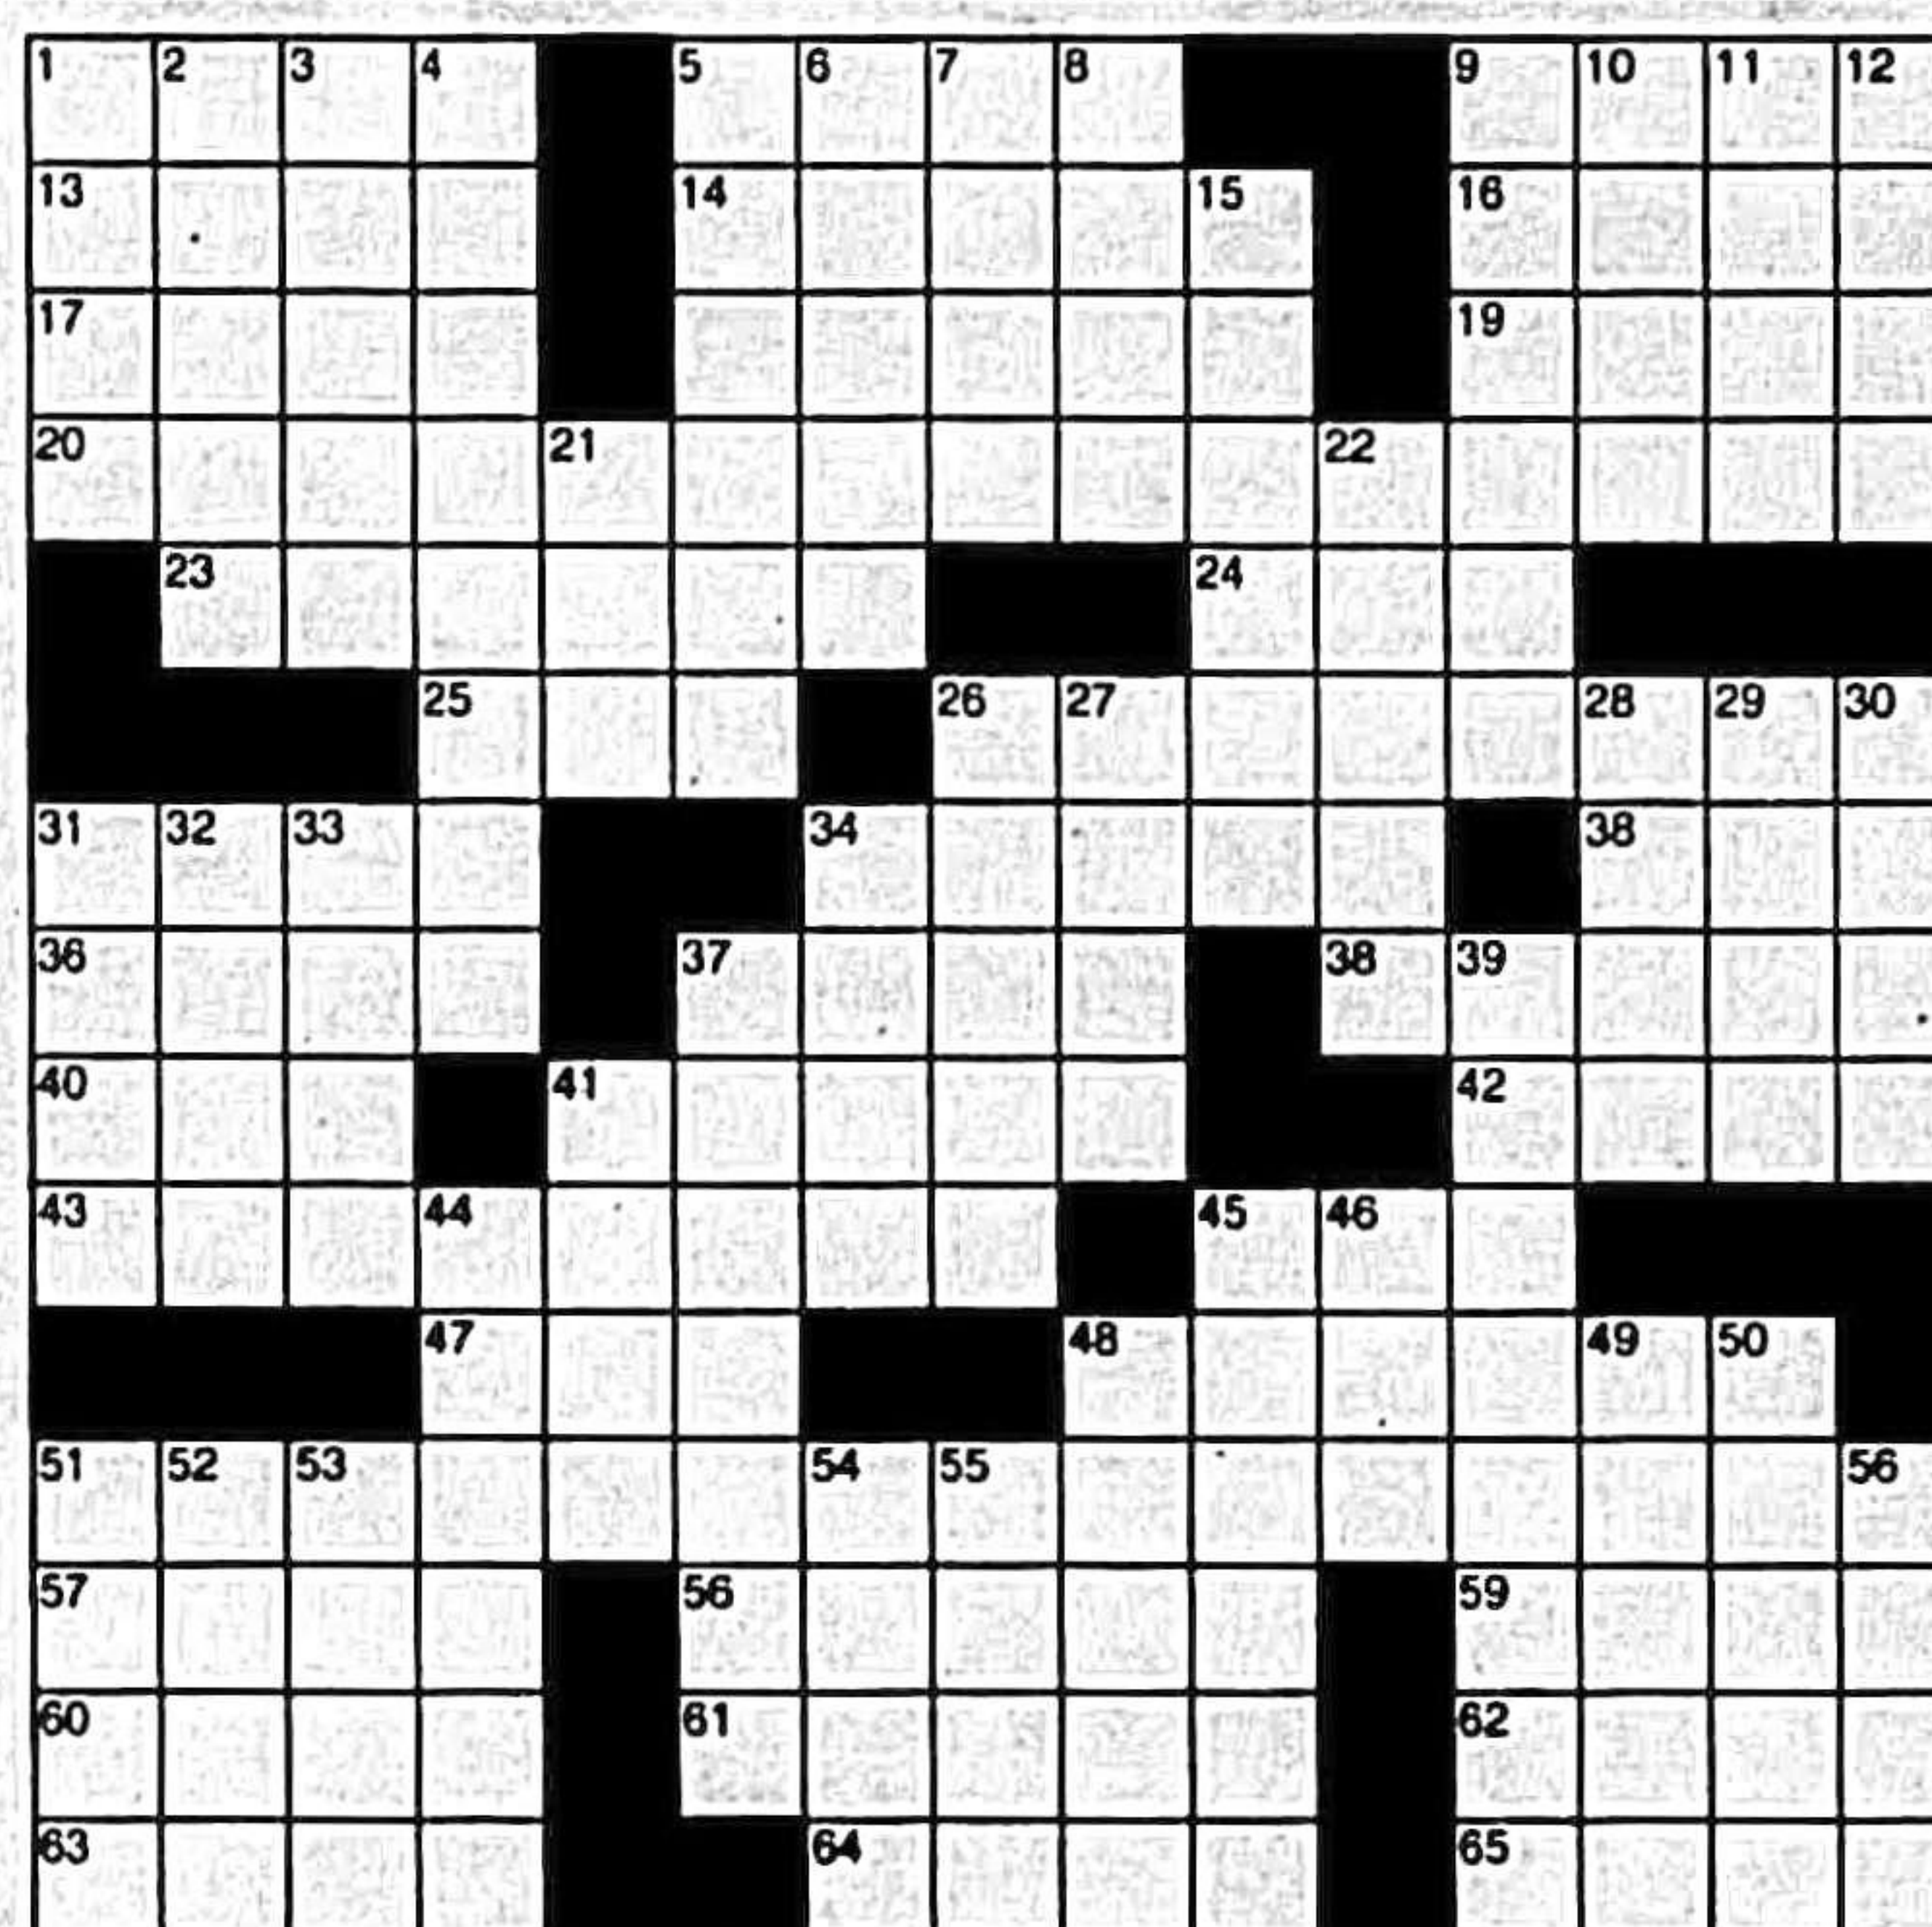

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Your new position at work turns out to be better than you'd imagined. Supervisors recognize all of your hard work and make recommendations for further advancements. Don't let success go to your head, however. Too many people rely upon you for advice and as a provider.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

You now realize that you made the wrong choice when it came to a financial investment. Accept your losses and move on — fast schemes to recoup your losses will not work this time. You may find you need to borrow some money from a close friend.

Russian champion continues teaching chess to kids

A popular children's chess program, for both new and experienced players, continues at Gorton Community Center, 400 E. Illinois Road in Lake Forest. Russian chess champion Valentina Likhova will teach the classes.

The chess program will take place for six weeks on Saturdays, Nov. 3, 10, 24, Dec. 1, 8, and 15 (no class on Nov. 17). Instruction will be offered to kids in grades one through twelve, with instruction for advanced players from 9-10 a.m.; for intermediate players from 10-11 a.m.; and for beginners from 11 a.m. - noon. The fee is $75 per student.

It had been proven that chess enhances cognitive development and improves both verbal and mathematical skills, as well as increases academic performance by an average of 17 percent. Chess encourages creative thinking and provides a social outlet for children and young adults to come together, play games and learn strategy.

Interested participants should register and pay in advance. For further information, or to receive a program brochure, contact the Gorton office at 234-6060 or stop by between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., weekdays.

County police and fire on constant alert

Lake County area police and fire departments have reported they have received numerous suspicious calls believed to be related to anthrax. So far, all of the calls have been false alarms.

A common theme stressed when checking with local departments is to remain calm.

Wauconda checks every call

Wauconda Fire Department has received some reports of anthrax scares since the cases reported in Florida and New York.

"We have received a couple of calls," said Fire Chief Dave Dato.

"With a lot of the cases, it is something they have seen all the time. People are assuming the worst. We would rather have them be safe if there are any questions," said Al Schlicht, a Wauconda Fire Department staffer and part of the hazardous materials team in Lake County.

Wauconda police reported that someone saw a baggie in the driveway on Oct. 15 with a white powdery substance. It turned out to be rocks and salt, the report said.

"It just started with the case in Florida. It is a mix of businesses and individuals," Schlicht said.

"Everyone is more aware of their surroundings. Everyone in law enforcement is on higher alert," said Wauconda Police Chief Dan Quick.

Quick said that the department has received some calls from residents about possible anthrax, with none proving positive.

First candidate announces for new legislative district

A practicing attorney with a broad background in law enforcement and the judiciary is the first to announce candidacy for the newly formed 62nd State Legislative District of north central Lake County.

Albert L. Wysocki, 51, a resident of Lake Villa with offices in Lake Villa and Wauconda, said he will seek the Republican nomination, running on a platform calling for equitable school funding and seeking solutions to traffic congestion.

The district, one of three new legislative districts being formed in Lake County as the result of the 2000 census, runs from Gurnee west to the Fox Lake-Ingleside area, and takes in most of the Round Lake area, Grayslake, portions of Warren Township, Third Lake, Hainesville and parts of the Lake Villa area.

Other new legislative districts have been drawn for south central Lake County around Vernon Hills and Waukegan/North Chicago. A final decision on legislative districts is expected to be hammered out in the courts before the end of the year.

Nominees from both political parties will be selected in the March 19 primary.

Pointing to a successful law practice, Wysocki said he is in good position in his personal and professional life to enter the political area and "give back to the community" what he has acquired growing up and working in Lake County.

Wysocki and his wife, Tina, are the parents of two adult children. They have two grandsons.

society. Funding for education is falling too heavily on the shoulders of property owners. It's time to change that, just like it's time to stop talking about expanding our highway system and get action."

Wysocki said he supports construction of Route 53, both for traffic reasons and economic stimulation reasons, but he also feels more has to be done in expanding and modernizing the existing highway system.

The attorney, who once maintained an office in Antioch, has been involved in public service throughout his adult life. He is a former member of the Round Lake School board of education. "I want to restore the district to the vitality it had when I served in the early 1980s."

He accepted a court appointment in 1986, serving for five years before returning to private law practice.

His police background includes work with the FBI as a fingerprint analyst, sheriff's deputy, chief deputy and later as executive administrator in the sheriff's department.

Wysocki said he is beginning face-to-face campaigning and will be well funded.

Great Lakes to get new commander

Within a few weeks, Great Lakes Naval Training Center will have a new commander, the third woman to command the Navy's recruiting training facility.

She is Rear Adm. Ann Rondeau, who grew up in New York. She currently is deputy chief of staff for shore base management of the U.S. Pacific Fleet in Pearl Harbor.

Rondeau will replace interim commander Rear Adm. Daniel Kloeppel, who served since Rear Adm. David Polatty III was stripped of his command when found guilty of ethics violations.

Nov. 9 has been tentatively set for a formal change of command ceremony.

Rondeau is a specialist in political-military affairs, strategy and military transportation. Her career includes two tours at the U.S. Naval Academy. She commanded a supply facility in Italy.

Prep football star remembered

Michael Lampi Sr. had planned to attend the Wauconda-Round Lake football game for months.

"I was going to surprise him. I had bought my airplane ticket and was going to go over there (the stands) when the varsity team was watching the sophomores play," Lampi said.

Michael Lampi Jr. died in the early morning of Oct. 13 after injuries from a ruptured spleen suffered after a hit in the Oct. 12 game at Grant High School.

The Panthers, with the crowd constantly shouting "Lampi, Lampi" went out and earned their school's first playoff slot in nine years with a 48-13 win over Wauconda.

"At Round Lake we are survivors. It was a tough week," said Round Lake coach Kevin Dempsey.

Lampi recalled that his son's interest in sports began at an early age. "He used to try and catch the baseball with his bare hands," Lampi said.

Lampi came to the game at Wauconda thanking Wauconda, the North Suburban Conference teams, and the entire county for their support. Lampi lives in Albuquerque, N. M.

Scenes at the game included: moment of silence for the 17-year-old Lampi before kick-off. The entire Round Lake side was full, signs and T-shirts marked the occasion.

Team members shouted Lampi's name in warm-ups. At just past 10 p.m., a team prayer concluded the night. The Panthers left in lines of twos, and Mike Lampi Sr. congratulated them on their achievements.

Lampi said the family felt touched by the support.

"The community has really pulled together. There were so many players from other schools in the conference at the funeral," Lampi said.

More than a few Round Lake fans had blue and gold paint in coats on their faces. Many fans, like the players, wore Lampi's No. 10 patches in his memory. Some of Lampi's best friends spelled out the name of their fallen classmate on their chests, complete with an exclamation point.

"I played last year and wore No. 10. I was glad he has it. I am sure that he is here," said student Dominic Cirelli.

sonnel responded to a call on Oct. 17, when an employee at the postal facility noticed a white powdery substance in the lobby.

The post office was closed at about 9:10 a.m. After inspecting the site, authorities determined that the powder was probably drywall dust.

According to Brock Millsop at the Lake Villa Fire Department, the area was decontaminated with a bleach mixture as a precaution, although samples taken did not substantiate any real danger.

"We isolated the area as a precaution," he noted.

The post office reopened at about 10 a.m. The fire department is taking on the role of point man in such instances, with the police and rescue squads providing support.

"We're coordinating with local police and fire department," said Greg March of the Lake Villa Rescue Squad.

The fire department, in turn, is depending on the Lake County Special Response Team to handle any cases that require precautions as serious as a Hazmet suit. The rescue squad has an isolation kit that provides some degree of protection, with a Tyvek suit, eye protection and a mask, but it is not a sealed suit.

The Lindenhurst and Lake Villa police departments and the Lake Villa Rescue Squad are all drafting new procedures to deal with the threat of biological terrorism, and they are coordinating their efforts with the fire department.

"Our prime focus is, as peace officers, to deal with the fears of the people," said Lindenhurst Police Chief Jack McKeever. "If we get anything that looks suspicious, we'll get help from outside agencies."

Gurnee sees its share of incidents

At the Gurnee Post Office on O'Plaine Road, Postmaster Dave Smith said that no suspicious items have come through his building whatsoever.

"We don't feel that Gurnee would be a target of something like that," Smith said. "But we're extra cautious."

That includes extra training about how to identify and what to do with suspicious packages. Smith said that he's been in direct communication with the fire and police departments and has cooperated with them.

Postal employees had been wearing plastic gloves to handle mail before the incident and will continue to do so. Smith said the post office has also offered small face masks, but no one wished to use them.

On Oct. 21 as Six Flags Great America was opening, a white, powdery substance was found on 12 benches in the Yukon Territory area of the park. The area was cordoned off while a sample of the powder was taken by the Gurnee Fire Department. It was determined that it was not a dangerous substance.

Round Lake readies

Though Round Lake area police chiefs are reporting few suspicious type of powder calls—two in Round Lake, one in Round Lake Park and none in Round Lake Beach, rumors persist there have been more calls.

At the monthly meeting of the Round Lake Area Chamber of Commerce at Lakes Bowl, Greater Round Lake Fire Protection District Chief Paul Mapletorpe announced that, he had been receiving four to six suspicious power-type calls a day, all of which were unfounded. "People have to use common sense," he said.

At the Round Lake Park Village Board meeting, Round Lake Park-Hainesville Police Chief Bruce Johnson said people need to keep things in perspective. "Only one person has died of anthrax and yet hundreds of people die each week in drunk driving accidents." He said the media should focus more on that.

Brenda Balin-Beitscher, Steve Petersen, Marc Jenkins and Jeff Zachary contributed to this story.

'Bucky' helps Dobner make way to classes at NIU

Wauconda resident Amanda Dobner receives assistance in moving around Northern Illinois University with the help of a Guiding Eyes for the Blind guide dog.

"It has worked out real well. I have trouble outside and he helps me get back and forth. In classes, he sits right under my desk and sleeps. He is very calm," said Dobner.

Dobner went to New York for 26 days of training before being assigned Bucky. She was the youngest person there, but made friends with all other students, she said. She learned of the company through her vision assistant in Wauconda. "At training, they taught us commands and how to take care of the dog," Dobner said.

Dobner is a Wauconda High School graduate who is studying special education at the DeKalb university. Bucky the dog is a black male labrador retriever.

"Bucky is my companion. It is nice to have a better set of eyes looking out for me," Dobner said.

Dobner said NIU has been wonderful about helping her and other blind students. She has been blind since birth.

"We saw several dogs for the blind on campus," said Nancy Dobner, Amanda's mom.

The Guiding Eyes Puppy Raising program is comprised of 650 puppy raisers from Maine to North Carolina.

The volunteers take potential guide dogs into their homes to teach them the basic manners and obedience. "Lots of love and attention are very important to the development of young guide dog pups, therefore early socialization is very important," said company spokesman AnnMarie Kennedy.

The average 18-month commitment that a blind dog raiser agrees to is overseen by a volunteer area coordinator, and includes training and quarterly evaluations. Guiding Eyes, based in Yorktown Heights, NY, pays for the routine veterinary care, but the puppy raiser is foremost in offering all the tender loving care that the puppy deserves.

Ron Schulz, a certified blind dog raiser, raised Dobner's dog since the dog was 10 weeks old. Accepted into the Schulz family for 18 months, the dog became like a family member. "Bucky would lay down at the top of our stairs and we would throw a tennis ball to him. He would catch it and then go back and lay down and gently drop the ball out of his mouth. The ball would bounce down the stairs and we would throw it to him all over again," Schulz said.

"I am extremely happy for him and I am glad that all of the work paid off. He is a great dog and deserves a lot of love," Schulz said through Guide Dogs for the Blind.

Dobner said people often want to pet Bucky, but the dog was taught to not to react while the harness was on. At all other times, he is very playful at the Dobners' Wauconda home.

"We saw several dogs for the blind on campus," said Nancy Dobner, Amanda's mom.

Amanda was born with retinal dystrophy, but led an active life as a Wauconda student. She was on the peer medication council. She competed in global, a competition where people are blindfolded and maneuver a basketball that has bells.

Schulz, in a Guiding Dogs for the Blind press release, said that he is happy for Bucky, a 70-pound dog. "I am extremely happy for him and I am glad that all of the work paid off. He is a great dog and deserves a lot of love," Schulz said.

It costs $30,000 to match each dog with a blind partner. Yet, Guiding Eyes never charges for its services. It is funded solely by contributions from individuals, corporations and foundations. The company has lifetime follow-up support for its dogs.

Rainbow trout stocked at Lakewood Forest Preserve

Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda will open for rainbow trout fishing Saturday, Oct. 20, following release of approximately 350 trout (320 lbs.) in Banana Lake, according to Lake County Forest Preserve biologists.

The trout range in size from three-quarter to 1.5 pounds, with most fish falling into the lower end of the range. The trout stocking is an annual fall event at Banana Lake, and the lake is stocked again each spring, as part of a "put and take" program at the 3.2-acre lake. The daily catch limit is five. The deepest point in Banana Lake is 27 feet.

Fishing in the Forest Preserves is FREE to the public; however, fishermen ages 16 and over must have an Illinois fishing license. Trout fishermen must also have an Illinois inland trout stamp, available where licenses are sold. Proceeds from the sale of the stamps will help fund the trout stocking program.

Lakewood Forest Preserve is located on Route 176 just west of Fairfield Road near Wauconda. Hours are from 6:30 a.m. to sunset, daily. For more information call the Lake County Forest Preserves at 367-6640.

Temporary trail opens

Preserve improvements underway

On Wednesday, Oct. 17, Lake County Forest Preserve officials and project partners celebrated the start of Preserve improvements and the opening of a temporary 3.5-mile grass trail at Rollins Savanna Forest Preserve.

Rollins Savanna is Lake County's second largest Forest Preserve with 1,225 uninterrupted acres. Scattered groves of majestic oaks, wide-open prairies teeming with wildflowers and native grasses and abundant wetlands offer the perfect setting for grassland birds and other wildlife. Habitat restoration and construction of trails and other public access areas at Rollins Savanna, funded by a voter-approved Forest Preserve referendum, is scheduled to begin in spring 2002, with completion anticipated by fall 2002.

Temporary trail now open

A 3.5-mile temporary grass trail is open for hiking now, and for cross-country skiing this winter. Snowmobiles will be able to parallel a small section of the trail as they pass through the Preserve. The temporary trail encircles a large open area and provides excellent views of both upland and wetland wildlife habitat areas. A grass parking area is located on Washington Street just west of Atkinson Road and provides access to the Rollins Savanna temporary grass trail and the local Village of Grayslake bikeway.

Be calm, confident about town safety

In a whole new world of uncertainty about personal and public safety, it's comforting to know that a highly trained, committed and around-the-clock team of law enforcement and fire service professionals is only a 911 call away. In the wave of anthrax terrorism, and the local reaction, members of the Lake County Fire Chiefs Assn. executive board spoke out to citizens with unruffled reassurance. Unequivocally, they stated the following:

First, area fire departments have the necessary resources available to protect the public, and Second, panic is the worst defense against fear.

Association officers pledged to respond to every call for help and answer questions about community safety.

In Lake County, every fire department and rescue squad is part of a sophisticated mutual aid network. Every response triggers a chain reaction to provide either on-the-scene or backup support as the situation requires. Even a comparatively minor fire can have a half dozen or more fire departments handling the call. What can look like overkill in reality is an example of the tremendous amount of manpower and equipment that is available in our locality.

Members of the fire service train endlessly, honing their skills and maintaining readiness. Today's firefighters and emergency medical technicians are professionals with high tech equipment at their command. They know their job.

Still fresh in mind are preparations for Y2K problems that never transpired. How soon we forget. Before the Year 2000 calendar turned, uneventfully for the most part, Americans were apprehensive, just like we are now. We're getting a pay-off today for millenium funds and time expended two years ago.

We're finding out now that coping with terrorism or deliberate acts of violence aren't new to police and firemen. That's heartening in itself. They've been studying the subject for a long time, only they didn't talk much about how to deal with the unthinkable. Fighting fear can be as big a task as dealing with violence itself.

Staying calm, as members of the fire service recommended, is good advice. Be assured, help is only a few moments away.

Rollins Savanna next forest jewel

Rollins Savanna is open for business. At 1,225 acres the second largest forest preserve in the Lake County system, the combination of wetlands, prairies and mature stands of oak trees is destined to become another jewel in the crown of preserved open space.

For a variety of reasons, not the least of which is size, Rollins Savanna took a long time to open. Prairie restoration—turning one-time cultivated acreage into fields of native grass—was the largest project of its kind ever undertaken by Forest Preserve personnel. Through intentional neglect, farm tiles were allowed to deteriorate so natural wetlands could be restored.

An ambitious conception plan has been drawn up with the help of a citizens advisory group. President Al Westerman lauded the input of volunteers designing uses for the extensive open space separating north Grayslake and the village of Third Lake. An arm extends eastward to Route 45. College of Lake County and the future Lake County University Center are neighbors.

There will be gravel and mowed trails, including a 3.5-mile-long grass trail, an education trail, woodchip paths, bicycle paths and a board walk. Eventually there will be a greenhouse and native seed nursery.

Save for utility high lines traversing part of the preserve, a visit to Rollins Savanna will be "a breath taking visit to a world of nature" in the words of County Board Rep. Sandy Cole (R-Grayslake), who played an influential role in opening the preserve after 12 years of languish. Historic Mill Creek meanders through a northern portion of the preserve.

A note to cross country skiers: Some of the best trails in the Midwest will be available at Rollins Savanna.

VIEWPOINT

In townships, women have say

Say something nice about the ladies.

Women are making their presence felt in township government, and in the process, they're adding a new dimension to grassroots politics.

When Yvonne Senter-Evans was sworn in earlier this month as a trustee of Shields Township (North Chicago, Lake Bluff, Lake Forest) to fill a vacancy, the total of women serving as township trustees swelled to 21 or almost 29 percent of the 73 township trustee-ships in the county.

Long known as the refuge for "good old boy" politics, township government is proving to be an attractive entry point for women in elective politics.

Of the county's 18 townships, a third are headed by women. Distaff supervisors include Kim Tinerella, Ela (Lake Zurich); Mildred Corder, Newport (Wadsworth); Suzanne Simpson, Warren (Gurnee); Patricia Jones, Waukegan; Julie Morrison, West Deerfield, and Cheri Ditzig, Zion.

Half the townships have women serving as assessors. Men have a lock on the position of highway commissioners, but women hold their own in the elective position of town clerk.

Trustee Betty-Ann Moore of Libertyville Township, former Democrat chair of the county, encourages women to get involved in township politics. So does Rosemary Mers, Wauconda Township trustee, a past national president of the U.S. Grandmothers' Club, who likes her township job, but misses the travel and opportunity to speak for grandmothers all over the nation.

'Coons a'coming

Thought you'd like to know: The raccoon population is growing faster in Illinois than the human population. U.S. Census figures show that 12,419,293 people live in Illinois, an 8.6 percent increase from 1990. During the same period, the raccoon population increased 24 percent, according to Outdoor Illinois, the Department of Natural Resources magazine. Illinois does the best job of any state keeping tabs on the wildlife population.

Johnny Appleseed

A bumper apple crop has Forest Preserve President Al Westerman picking and packing overtime on his 16 acre farmette-orchard near the stateline. "Best I can remember," Westerman described the 2001 crop as he prepared a 1,000-pound load of apples for food center for the needy in Park City. A trained naturalist, Westerman cultivates 100 apple varieties among 150 trees on a site east of Russell off the Northern Illinois Tollway. Over the years, Westerman has made a practice of obtaining cuttings from old trees he spots around the county. He also raises oaks and hickory trees from seed.

New GOP chairman

Republican Central Committee reportedly will have a change of leadership when precinct committeemen elect a new chairman to replace John Schulien, who has decided to give up the post. Waukegan Attorney Steve Simonian and Bob Neal of Wadsworth, a former GOP party chief and former County Board member, both have expressed interest in the non-paid job. Committeemen elect after the March 19 primary.

One man's family

Granddaughter Erika had the honor of singing "God Bless America" at her suburban Dallas elementary school, leading the students in a salute to terrorist victims and firefighters. As a transplanted resident of the Lone Star State, her grandparents wondered if the rendition was an Illinois version or one that Texans could understand.

COMMENTARY

Curriculum vote misguided effort

By Michael Landers

I'm no fan of Dr. William Spady, the sociologist-turned-alter-native-education-guru who enjoyed a brief but explosive tenure as a "strategic planning consultant" with Community Consolidated School District 46 in Grayslake during the last school year. After sitting through one of Spady's goofy "strategic planning" presentations, with all its squishy PC philosophy and New Age vagaries ("Spheres of living?" Spare me.), I was as relieved as anyone when the public rose up to squelch his role with the district. But the whole Spady fiasco pales in comparison to the new "grass roots movement" it has spawned, the one whose slick mailer recently found its way into Grayslake mailboxes. This movement comes complete with a catchy name ("Friends of District 46") and a cause: a turnkey elementary school curriculum package called "Core Knowledge," which they wish to implement in District 46 schools via the ever-popular public referendum.

The issue isn't "Core Knowledge." Even if the curriculum package was everything they want us to believe it is, it wouldn't change the reality that the idea this group is pushing—placing this or any other curriculum program up for referendum—is inappropriate, undemocratic and just plain dumb.

It's inappropriate because it intrudes upon the judgment and decision-making responsibilities of professionals who, in fact, already report to the public, the superintendent and curriculum director, both of whom are appointed by the school board. Likewise, it's undemocratic because it seeks to usurp the authority of a fairly elected government body, that being the school board.

And yes, it's dumb—really

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Leafblad, Newton opt for County Board

Two new mid-county state representative districts are beginning to attract candidate attention, but two seasoned County Board members already have said "no thanks."

County Board Rep. Larry Leafblad (R-Highland Lake) discussed with family members and advisors running for a north central seat being carved out in the redistricting process. In opting out, Leafblad predicted the race will be hotly contested and costly. The outspoken independent Republican is strongly favored for re-election to the County Board.

A south central Lake County district being fashioned by Democrat map makers will reflect the influx of Democratic newcomers. County Board Rep. Pam Newton (R-Vernon Hills) likes her chances better for re-election than battling the unknown in a new district.

Warren Township Supervisor Sue Simpson reportedly is considering her political future in the new north central district. Lake Villa Attorney Al Wysocki is the first to announce for the new district—the 62nd—which includes Grayslake, Gurnee, Gages Lake, parts of the Round Lake area, Lake Villa and part of Grant Township.

Finds the money

County Board Rep. Sandy Cole (R-Grayslake), chair of the Lake County Board Finance Committee, used her knowledge of county funds to come up with $2 million needed to open Rollins Savanna that has been languishing undeveloped as part of the Forest Preserve system. A good bit of the 1,225 acres once was the Picket Fence Farm noted

Leafblad:

All things considered, county political pastures greener than Springfield scene.

Newton:

Build fences

First order of business for new Lake Bluff Police Chief William Gallagher is cementing relations with officers who were pulling for Deputy Chief Karl Schons, a popular choice to replace outgoing Chief Fred Day. After screening nearly 80 candidates, village officials said they thought an outsider with a strong public safety background would be best suited for the $90,000 per year job. Gallagher comes from Winnetka and has 30 years in law enforcement. Schons has spent 26 years in police work.

Patriotic theme

Maravela's in Fox Lake was decorated in red, white and blue, Thursday night for a supper in honor of Judge Barbara Gilleran Johnson, a Lake County jurist who is a candidate for an Appellate Court seat. Warren Township Supervisor Sue Simpson was instrumental in making arrangements for the event. Johnson is acting chief judge of Lake and McHenry counties with 23 years of experience.

Schmidt named

Lake County Board Chair Suzi Schmidt has been named to the National Association of Counties' Public Lands Steering Committee. The committee focuses on federally owned lands, including tax immunity problems, shared natural resource payments, payments-lieu-of-taxes and federal land management.

Where's Pat?

Both Don Newby and Bob Powers, candidates for a newly created Lake County Board District, are asking the same questions. Where's Pat? They're wondering if Pat Anderson, Avon Township highway commissioner who expressed an interest in running, has changed his mind. Newby, a village trustee of Round Lake, and Powers, a Republican activist, are campaigning actively. Backers of Newby and Powers also have raised the question whether Anderson could retain his well paying township post if elected to the County Board.

New police patch

A newly redesigned patch is being phased in by the Grayslake Police Department Chief Larry Herzog said the patch will be available to bona fide collectors, but not to the public at large. That's to head off the possibility of someone impersonating an officer. The new patch reflects community values of education, history, partnerships and recreation.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Waiting for word

I see that the ubiquitous correspondent, Jack Martin, has seen fit to pass on the thoughts of the Muslim and Islamic leaders of Afghanistan concerning the 5,000 who died in the New York terrorist attack. He (and they) relate it to the abortion issue. Can we next expect him to voice their collective opinions on the Route 53 extension?

Defying the law

Since it is impossible to know if "stray" cats are lost, abandoned or simply being allowed to roam, cat owners should be advised that allowing pets to run at large in any area of Lake County is not an option under county law.

The Lake County Rabies and Animal Control Ordinance requires the apprehension and impoundment of animals running at large. This requirement is repeated in village codes. The county ordinance also requires that pets in heat be strictly confined by the owner.

Some village officials (most notably Round Lake Park) defy the county ordinance and their own village codes by refusing to apprehend and impound cats running at large. Consequently, irresponsible cat owners allow their pets to roam, prey upon defenseless wildlife, invade private property and mate indiscriminately; thereby, subjecting the cats to deadly feline diseases and other dangers, and adding mightily to the overwhelming and expensive burden of pet overpopulation.

Why are village officials allowed to defy the county rabies/animal control ordinance and ignore their own village codes?

Step back, relax

I treated about 50 cases of anthrax while doing mission work in Africa. It just got lumped in with the thousands of cases of other infectious diseases that come through the clinic each year—typhoid, malaria, TB. I personally ran the leprosy clinic for 500 patients.

I am not trying to imply "ho-hum, another case of anthrax." I have a healthy respect for all infectious diseases. I wash my hands at least 40 times per day. However, some calm is in order here, please.

This week my nephew called the police to report a strange letter that he had received the week earlier. Six squad cars, a fire truck, an ambulance, and several masked persons with plastic bags besieged his home. In the presence of a terrified wife and crying children, they prepared to cart off his household belongings.

Hundreds of persons will die this year from the liver and kidney toxicity of Quinolone-type antibiotics such as Cipro. Don't call. I don't have any at my home, even though I get free samples.

I am glad people are becoming health conscious. But let's be realistic. Step back, relax a bit.

Is that bin Laden or a decoy?

Our nation's intelligence agencies are confident Osama bin Laden will be found and captured or killed before mid-November.

However, the evil terrorist is making that more difficult by employing an old trick of candidates for assassination. He reportedly has bearded look-alike decoys traveling around Afghanistan to confuse pursuers about his whereabouts.

That old dead-ringer trick was used by other monsters the world would have been better off without, such as Adolph Hitler, Josef Stalin and Saddam Hussein.

We feel sorry for the innocent guys who had to pose as their doubles.

During the Persian Gulf War 10 years ago, there were several actors bopping around Baghdad disguised as Saddam, so those who wanted to zap him had to run the risk of bumping off some innocent Iraqi being forced to play the part.

You wouldn't exactly call that "the Mother of all jobs." You'd be a nervous wreck, hoping the fake mustache wouldn't fall off.

Hitler did likewise. During World War II there were several nerdy little Adolphs goose-stepping around Germany and it was difficult to determine which one to rub out.

THE PFARR CORNER

Jerry Pfarr

Ten years ago a Russian named Rashid died. His obituary said he looked so much like Stalin he was drafted to sit in for the Soviet dictator at meetings and banquets.

When the Soviet cops discovered Rashid was Stalin's spittin' image, they whisked him away from his village and made him spend two years studying with Alexei Dikly, an actor who played Stalin in movies.

After Stalin died in 1953, Rashid was relieved of his role and given a one-room apartment somewhere. He was 93 when he died in 1991.

Too bad Abraham Lincoln couldn't have found someone similarly homely who could have gone to the theater for him that night in 1865.

A leader's look-alike, what an idea for a movie! And it's been done a few times.

In the 1988 film, "Moon Over Parador," Richard Dreyfuss played a struggling American actor who was forced into portraying a recently deceased Latin American dictator. Raul Julia, as the bad guy who controls the country, tells him: "Play the part or I'll kill you."

Dreyfuss screams, "Why don't you get Bobby DeNiro or Dustin Hoffman?"

Anyway, it's a neat little movie. And another one, a "must rent" if you haven't seen it, is "Dave," starring Kevin Kline in 1993. He plays a nice, regular guy, a look-alike who is recruited to impersonate a corrupt dying president whose cronies don't want the nation to know he's in a coma.

All this gives me an idea. If you happen to look a lot like me—well, that's too bad—but the good news is I may have a job for you.

I'm pondering hiring a stand-in to represent me on occasions that are taking up too much of my valuable time, like traffic jams, dental appointments, meetings that make my eyes glaze over, and Chicago Cubs games in September.

The job would be a piece of cake. You don't have to talk, just wear a silly grin and nod at people. Should they ask tough questions, give them a blank look and say, "Duh?" They'll be convinced it's me.

dumb—because of what it asks the public to do. The proposed referendum wants us to take a critical decision about public education out of the hands of education professionals and place it instead with a small group who, no matter how well-meaning or strongly motivated, are simply not qualified to make the decision. It's like having a lawyer tell your surgeon what open-heart procedure to use, or appointing a citizens' task force to come up with a plan for Mr. Rumsfeld to execute in Afghanistan.

So, before my "friends" go any further with their clearly misguided effort, I'd encourage them to consider the options that are, and always have been, open to them within the existing system.

If you don't like the District 46 curriculum, lobby the school board to change it.

If you don't like the superintendent and his people, petition the board to have them removed.

And if the board members won't do what you want them to, work to elect some new members.

I'd like to suggest that before we go through the time, trouble and expense of holding a public referendum, perhaps a little "in-house" referendum is in order. Let's ask the District 46 teachers—all of them—for an up-or-down, yea-or-nay vote on the "Core Knowledge" curriculum. And while we're at it, we might ask them how they feel about working for a district where decisions about curriculum—and presumably any other issue of equal gravity—are liable to be second-guessed and even overturned by a small, politically-motivated group of concerned citizens.

Editor's note: Michael Landers is a parent of one former and one current District 46 student who is a close observer of educational affairs.

This year, trick or treats can be a scary thought

Hi Dr. Singer,

Halloween is coming up and frankly with all that has happened on September 11th and afterwards, I am not real willing to let my kids go trick or treating. Let's face it. Even when they go around our own neighborhood, they do not know everyone from every house. Even if they know some people and not others, it makes me very uncomfortable. Of course, I am very unpopular with my grade school children based on this notion and I wondered if you might weigh in on your opinion. My husband supports me most of the way here, but he also wants to hear your opinion before making a decision. Thank you. L.M.

Hi L.M.,

I'm going to join the ranks of the unpopular and jump right on the boat with you. Not only do I think trick or treats is a bad idea now, but I have always felt this tradition to not only be a bad idea, but totally contrary to the good things we teach our kids all the rest of the year, namely, don't go to strangers and get candy and don't ring the bell of houses you don't know the people in. Somehow, Halloween comes and all of a sudden, those rules go away and we let our children do both. It gives me the willies!

Here's where I am at right now. Our world has gone crazy. We are hearing about things and watching things on the news that we never dreamed we would have to endure in our lifetimes. While I have recommended in past columns that we need to not immerse ourselves in the details on an every minute basis, it is still important to be informed and to know what is going on with events that will effect us. This thing has effected every one of us in some way. Add to that the amount of people out there who can be a little "off" without the tragedy. It is hard to not think that a holiday that celebrates scary things would not be dangerous in some way, especially when the full moon falls right on that night (believe it or not.)

PARENT'S PLACE

Assuming you stay in your position, and trick or treats are out for this year, I would like to suggest some really fun alternatives that we did growing up. You see, my parents were not fans of trick or treating and felt it to be very dangerous but we had a lot of fun on Halloween every year. We always had a party. The party would of course, involve costumes and lots of candy, but even more fun, we got to get some scary movies. Now in those days, it wasn't VCR movies and terrible blood and gore. Back then (in the stone ages, ha ha) it was Boris Karloff in the "White Zombie," on reel to reel, rented from the local library for a dollar. It might not have been the high-tech, special effects movies of today, but let me tell you, watching that movie in a darkened basement with 8 terrified girls was one of the many highlights of my childhood. We had a blast. Nowadays, it is easier. You have VCR's and Blockbuster video with a plethora of films to choose from (be careful with the younger ones with your film choice.)

Another great idea that we never did, but I have actually come up with in the last few days would be a candy treasure hunt in your own house. You could hide candy in different places and have the kids have a contest for who finds the most pieces by a certain time. Of course, you would need to have some rules about no running in the house and no breaking things. You could have kids pair off so it would be more fun. Depending on your yard situation, you could also incorporate your yard into the fun. Of course, if you have dogs that run the yard, you might want to re-think the yard thing or the treasure hunt may bring in some things you really don't want!

If you have a girl, another great idea to add on to the party is a slumber party. Some of my favorite childhood memories revolve around the scary movie, scream all night slumber parties. Yes, it will involve screaming and giggling all night, and yes, it might interrupt your sleep, but it is one night and it doesn't have to actually be on Halloween. It could be on the Friday or Saturday after so you can sleep late the next day. I had a friend by the name of Stacey who could scream louder and better than any horror movie actress you could ever see. She slept over regularly and to be honest, I am not sure how my parents and sister and brother dealt with it, but they seemed to close their door and never complain about it. Maybe they soundproofed my room without my knowledge, I don't know!

So, Halloween can be great with the use of parties and movies and candy and costume contests, etc. It can be very fun and most of all safe! Have fun!

Health Department urges teens to eat right

The Lake County Health Department/community Health Center is urging teenagers to improve and gain a stronger awareness of their eating habits. In 1997, an USDA study found that only 1 percent of American children met the nutritional guidelines of the Food Guide Pyramid. Recent studies indicate that at least 80 percent of adolescent girls feel bad about their bodies, 75 percent feel fat, and up to 70 percent are on diets at any given time. As for males, 40 percent of 12 to 22-year-old males have been shown to be dissatisfied with their weight, and 33 percent were not happy with their body shape.

"In this county there has been a rise in people at both ends of the scale, underweight and overweight," said Toby Stern, a Registered Dietitian with the Health Department/Community Health Center and a spokesperson for the Illinois Dietetic Assoc. "The concern of abnormal eating affects all teens, whether male or female, as well as all ethnic and cultural groups. Thirty-percent of children and teens are overweight and the numbers are on the rise. One out of five children in the United States is overweight. The number of overweight kids has more than doubled over the last 30 years."

Stern gave several reasons why teens engage in abnormal (disordered) eating. She said that teens are bombarded with information from the media, food advertisements, their friends, and their parents. Disordered eating seems to be occurring because:

1. The media show false images of body size.
2. Availability of high calorie foods, such as fast foods and higher fat convenience foods (nobody should super size!)
3. A decrease in physical activity.
4. Following are tips to encourage teens to eat right and be physically active:
 - Encourage your teens to say no to dieting. Diets usually fail. If you don't get enough calories, you grow more slowly, reduce muscle and bone size, and weaken your immune system. Dieting also affects your mental health. Dieting can cause feelings of deprivation, depression, and lower self-esteem.
 - Encourage teens to feel good about food. There are no "bad" or "good" foods. Don't satisfy your emotions with food or lack of food. Eat when you are hungry and stop when you are full.
 - Find movement that is enjoyable. Be physically active with activities that you enjoy. Be physically active for 30 minutes on most days.

Both the school and the teen's family were found to be the most influential toward preventing eating disorders. "Showing concern for a teen's welfare shows a sense of caring and helps to create an environment that discourages disordered eating," said Stern.

It is also helpful if a teen develops an awareness of his or her current eating and activity habits. Offering coping and life skills and training in media literacy in the classroom have also been found to be helpful. Additionally, Stern said that teens need positive role models.

Become a master of illusion with wallpaper

Trompe l'oeil, or "deceive the eye," is a time-honored decorative effect for adding architectural details, textures and even furnishings or whole scenes where they do not really exist. Today, thanks to sophisticated printing techniques, trompe l'oeil images once achieved only by master painters are available on wallpaper.

So realistic looking is the stone wallpaper in the First Class Male collection by S.A. Maxwell Co., that, without touching it, most people would never detect that it's actually a pattern printed on washable, durable, matte-finish wallpaper.

A great tool for creating or enhancing popular lodge and mountain cabin looks, this wallpaper can turn a simple fireplace into the focal point of a room. Install it on both sides of the fireplace or use it to create a faux stone chimney. Add a rustic wood beam mantel and hang your favorite catch above it. You can hang art or objects on this stone wall without a heavy-duty drill bit. And unlike the real thing, the stone on this fireplace can be wiped clean with just a damp cloth.

To add the drama of stone pillars to your mountain retreat, measure the width and height of the wall. Then determine a sequence of alternating stone pillars with open space between them. Cut around the edges of the stone shapes on strips of wallpaper the height of your ceiling and hang each strip vertically the full height of the wall, allowing equal space between each strip. For a different variation on the rustic theme, use the stone pattern along the lower portion of the wall to create a chair rail. Or add a touch of country to your kitchen with a stone soffit above the cabinets.

City or country, this faux stone wallpaper makes a great fortress in a child's room. Install it 36 inches up from the floor, trim the top edge to outline the stone shapes, and put cloud wallpaper above it.

An entirely different feel is achieved with the trompe l'oeil bookshelf in Maxwell's First Class Male collection. It brings warmth and tradition to any room and when used at the end of a hall or stair landing, actually seems to extend the space.

The same pattern can define different areas within a large room. On the far wall of a master bedroom it can signal a separation between the sleeping area and the entry to the master bath. Use it to warm up the living area of a great room in which the kitchen, dining and family room are all open to each other.

The ultimate English library can be achieved with the addition of faux bookshelves on either side of a fireplace or up to chair-rail height along the bottom of the walls. As a finishing touch, install a subtle textured or striped wallpaper above it. Set the right tone for your home office by installing a faux bookcase or two on the wall behind your desk. And in any room, disguise a door by turning it into a bookcase.

2001 Lakeland-Area playoff picture

Information compiled by Rob Backus, John Phelps and Steve Peterson.

Not bad. Football is on the rise in Lake County, at least for most teams that fall in the Lakeland coverage area. Out of the six that move on, there were four from the NSC Prairie, two from the NSC Lake and Carmel out of the Catholic Metro White. However you slice it, records are out the window at this point. Now it's time for pure emotion and adrenaline to take over. Here's a peek at Lakeland-area teams and their first-round match-ups.

Class 8A

#21 Warren (6-3) at #12 Bartlett (7-2)

Day/Time: Friday, 7:30 p.m. in Bartlett
Warren head coach: Dave Mohapp (4th yr.)

The scoop: The Devils stumbled a bit down the stretch, losing their final game of the regular season to Lake Forest with a share of the NSC title on the line.

Warren has a balanced running attack led by Ben Hill and Justin Williams. Quarterback C.J. Feller has matured into an adequate option should the Devils decide to air it out.

"We will have to throw it a little," said head coach Dave Mohapp. "But we will try to do what we do well which is run the ball."

On defense, Warren is confident as Bartlett runs an offense similar to the Devils'. Although Warren is considered the underdog in this game, the team matches up well with the Hawks and should pull out a win.

Quoteable: "We would love it if there was a balance between Ben (Hill) and Justin (Williams). We don't want their (Bartlett's) defense to be able to key on one guy." —Warren head coach Dave Mohapp Directions to Bartlett: From Lake County, take 294 south to 90 to Rte. 59. Take Rte. 59 south to Schaumburg Rd. then take a left. Follow Schaumburg Rd. to Streamwood High School, the site of the game.

Prediction: Warren 24, Bartlett 14

Class 7A

#18 Libertyville (6-3) at #15 Mt. Carmel (7-2)

Day/Time: Saturday, noon at Gately Stadium

Head coach: Randy Kuceyeski (8th yr.)

The scoop: The Cats were on a hot streak towards the end of the season, defeating Stevenson in their final game to earn a share of their third straight conference title.

However, Libertyville may be without the services of star tailback Gerett Burl who is nursing a strained Achilles tendon. If Burl is unable to go, look for Kevin Fontana and Charles Williams to get the lion's share of carries out of the backfield.

One player who will be there for the Cats is quarterback Kevin Egidi. Egidi came on strong towards the end of the season and figures to be an integral part of Libertyville's offense in the air and on the ground.

The Cats are confident on defense as Mt. Carmel runs an offense similar to that of Stevenson, which Libertyville did a good job against in their matchup at the end of the season.

"We're not expecting to shut them (Mt. Carmel) down," said head coach Randy Kuceyeski. "But we will slow them down."

Quoteable: "We think we're going to win 24-21. The kids are always confident." —Libertyville head coach Randy Kuceyeski

Directions to Gately Stadium: From Lake County, take Interstate 294 south to the Edens, or 94 east towards the city. From there, exit at 111th St. and go west to Cottage Grove. At Cottage Grove, go right, or north to 103rd and take a right. Gately Stadium will be on the left side about a block down.

Prediction: Mt. Carmel 28, Libertyville 21

Class 6A

#28 LaSalle-Peru (5-4) at #6 Carmel (8-1)

Day/Time: Saturday, 4 p.m. in Mundelein

Head coach: Andy Bitto (4th yr.)

The scoop: Despite the letdown that with the loss to Joliet Catholic in the final game of the regular season, this Corsair team is very confident heading into the post-season.

The Cavaliers went 2-3 in a very tough NCIC Northeast against the likes of Ottawa, Geneseo and Dixon. LaSalle-Peru runs a Wing-T offense and 6-2 defense that the Corsairs match up very well against.

"(LaSalle-Peru) runs a scheme we match up well with," said Carmel head coach Andy Bitto. "We're pretty confident with this matchup."

Look for the Corsairs to come out with the usual option tandem of quarterback Matt Roe and tailback Eric Luna with the occasional pass from Roe to Sean Walker or Jack Simmons.

Quoteable: "(LaSalle-Peru) will see a lot of Matt (Roe) and Eric (Luna). That's how we got here and we're sticking with them." —Head coach Andy Bitto

Prediction: Carmel 42, LaSalle-Peru 7

#22 Round Lake (6-3) at #9 Prairie Ridge (8-1)

Day/Time: Saturday, 2 p.m. in Crystal Lake

Head coach: Kevin Dempsey (8th yr.)

The scoop: A formidable foe awaits Round Lake in its first football playoff game since 1992. A lot of emotion awaits Prairie Ridge.

"They run a lot of Wing T and a full-house backfield. They have some big kids. We can't make many mistakes," said Round Lake coach Kevin Dempsey.

The Panthers come in at 6-3 and the 22nd seed in Class 6A. The Wolves finished 8-1 overall and 8-1 in the always-tough Fox Valley, losing only to champion McHenry.

Vince Gardner quarterbacks the Panthers and the squad is led on offense by Dallas Bassett. Bassett had 109 yards in 16 carries in an emotional 48-13 win at Wauconda. He scored two touchdowns and Wes Parker added two more on a 65-yard night.

"We'll play good, solid defense and ball control. Our kids will step up," Dempsey said.

The Panthers have been playing for the memory of QB Mike Lampi, who died Oct. 13 after injuries suffered Oct. 12.

Quoteable: "The kids did a great job this week. It was very difficult. But they (the kids) are mentally tough. In Round Lake, we are survivors." —Head coach Kevin Dempsey Directions to Prairie Ridge: Take Rte. 120 west to Crystal Lake Rd. in McHenry and go left, or south, into Crystal Lake. The school will be on the left side.

Prediction: Round Lake 21, Prairie Ridge 20

#18 Grant (6-3) at #15 Champaign Centennial (7-2)

Day/Time: Saturday, 1 p.m. in Champaign

Head coach: Mark Barczak (9th yr.)

The scoop: For Grant, that road begins with a trip to Champaign. The key factor for Grant in the Class 6A playoff game will be if quarterback Eric Lemcke can suit up. He injured an ankle during a 14-13 loss to North Chicago in the regular-season finale.

Centennial features a Division I-bound wide receiver in Mark Johnson, who signed with Texas. The home team has a good QB who throws well and a good tailback as well, Barczak said.

Grant, who finished 2-3 in the NSC Prairie, but has wins over Lake Division champion Libertyville and playoff qualifier Warren in its resume, counters with the likes of Dave Behm at wide receiver and line-backer. T.J. Frum also leads the defense. Another big factor will be the fourth quarter. The team that can hang around and finish strong will prevail. This season, Grant outscored its opponents 49-15 in the final period.

Quoteable: "They (Champaign Centennial) even look big on film, which is scary." —Head coach Mark Barczak

Directions to Champaign: From the Chicago area, take Interstate 294 south to I-80 west. Stay on I-80 west for approximately 3 miles to I-57 south. Take I-57 south all the way to Champaign and exit at I-72 east after the I-74 interchange. From there, stay on I-72 east (also called University Ave.) to Mattis Ave. Turn right on Mattis and go south to West John Street. Turn right on West John Street and go west to Crescent Drive. Turn left on Crescent Drive and the school will be on the right side.

Prediction: Grant 27, Champaign Centennial 21

Class 5A

#14 Vernon Hills (6-3) at

#3 Chicago Marshall (9-0)

Day/Time: Saturday, 2 p.m. at Hanson Stadium

Head coach: Tony Monken (2nd yr.)

The scoop: The Cougars are riding high will the school's first ever playoff berth in just their second year of existence.

However, the mood may soon turn sour for Vernon as it draws undefeated Chicago Marshall as its first-round opponent.

"Marshall is 9-0 for a reason," said head coach Tony Monken. "But in the playoffs everyone is 0-0. I like our chances."

The Commandos have excellent team speed and can air it out with a strong passing attack. But that plays right into the Cougars' hands, as Vernon possesses great team speed on the defense.

The difference in the game may rest on the legs of tailback Matt Lefler as Marshall looks to use its speed to neutralize Vernon's vaunted air assault. It's no secret Vernon can score. This season, the Cougars averaged nearly 30 points per contest.

Quoteable: "If teams load up in the box, we'll throw. If we get running lanes we'll take them. We have enough weapons to keep people honest." —Head coach Tony Monken

Prediction: Marshall 42, Vernon Hills 31

Directions to Hanson Stadium: From Lake County, get off Kennedy, or Interstate 90, at Fullerton heading west. Go to Central Ave., or 5600 west. The stadium will be on the left side.

PREP FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

Corsairs earn respect but undefeated season ends at JCA

Carmel's dreams of an unbeaten season ended with a 28-25 loss to Joliet Catholic but the Corsairs walked away from the game with something almost as important—respect.

"If I had a vote for coach of the year it would be (Carmel coach) Andy Bitto," said Joliet Catholic head coach Dan Sharp. "Carmel has very talented athletes but what's most obvious is how well they're coached."

Carmel jumped out to an early 7-0 lead thanks to a 13-play, 81-yard drive that was capped off by a 2-yard TD run from quarterback Matt Roe, his 16th TD run of the season.

While one aspect of the Corsair option tandem was successful, the other, tailback Eric Luna, was held to just 60 yards on 21 carries.

"(Joliet Catholic's) linebackers came flying out and we couldn't get to the perimeter," said Carmel head coach Andy Bitto of his team's stymied running attack.

One running back who had a good game was sophomore Brandon Ziemann, who gained over 90 yards on just three carries including a 54-yarder and a 43-yard TD run in the third quarter.

The Corsairs' defense played well in the first half, holding Joliet Catholic's heralded running back J.R. Zwierzynski on 11 yards on seven carries and picking off four first-half passes, including three from Dexter Reid.

However, Carmel turned those four turnovers into just 13 points.

Carmel went into the final quarter with a 19-14 lead but by then Joliet Catholic had begun to take the advantage and two long touchdown drives later, the Hilltoppers were up 28-19.

The Corsairs added a late seven-yard TD pass from Roe to Sean Walker but it was too little, too late as Joliet Catholic hung on for the 28-25 win. The loss dropped Carmel's overall record to 8-1 and 6-1 in the Catholic Metro White.

"We knew we would score again at the end," said Bitto. "We just ran out of clock."—Rob Backus

Mundelein 24, Antioch 21

Three points determined the last two spots in the North Suburban Conference Lake Division when Mundelein traveled to Antioch looking for their first three-win season since 1998 last Saturday.

According to Mundelein head coach Jeff Geary, the Mustangs were clicking on all cylinders.

"We played well all around," said Geary. "Our offense, defense, and special teams all played well."

The Mustangs, who won their first NSC Lake division game, received much help from a much-needed source. Junior running back James Hawkins made his first appearance since his injury against Vernon Hills earlier this season. Hawkins rushed for over 70 yards and scored a touchdown.

Mundelein fullback Matt Heber also contributed to the Mustangs running attack with 55 yards and a touchdown.

Mundelein however, was not the only team running the ball well.

Antioch senior Dan Miodonski carried the ball 17 times for 108 yards to end his high school career.

Both teams passing games excelled Saturday afternoon as Mundelein's Adam Austin threw 160 yards on 12-of-24 passing, with a touchdown. Antioch's P.J. Hilbert completed 14-of-23 passes for 177 yards and a score.

According to Geary a last game victory is important for setting the mood for the off-season.

"It's (win) great for going into the off season," he said. "It doesn't get any better than that."

A last game can prove to be an emotional game for all seniors in that it is their last shot at walking on to a football field. Mundelein seniors felt the impact of their victory.

"They started the change in turning the program around here," said Geary. Mundelein finished 3-6 with one win in the conference this season. Antioch ended their season at 2-7, going winless in the conference this season.—Joe Pruski

Libertyville 35, Stevenson 28

The Wildcats went into their final game of the season against Stevenson having already clinched a playoff spot but they still had another goal on their mind—a third-straight NSC title.

Following a dramatic 35-28 win over Stevenson, that's exactly what Libertyville had. Or at least a share of it with the Patriots.

With star tailback Gerett Burl out with a strained Achilles tendon, the Cats' offense rode on the back of quarterback Kevin Egidi.

Egidi was 16-for-29 for 240 yards, including a 12-yard TD pass to Steven Vierra in the fourth quarter, and rushed for 92 yards on 15 carries and two scores, including a game-winning 15-yard TD run with just over 12 seconds remaining.

The win upped Libertyville's overall record to 6-3 on the season and 4-1 in the NSC Lake.

Lake Forest 16, Warren 14

With Libertyville's win over Stevenson the previous night, Warren went into its final regular season game needing a win to clinch a tie of its third straight NSC Lake title.

However, Lake Forest had other ideas.

Lake Forest jumped out to a 10-0 lead at the half but Warren answered back with 14 straight points on a 27-yard run from Ben Hill (17 carries, 108 yards) and a one-yard run by Dan Treiber to take a 14-10 lead with just over five minutes left in the game.

Lake Forest then proceeded to march 48 yards for the winning score.

The loss dropped Warren's overall record to 6-3 and 3-2 in the NSC Lake.

Crystal Lake Central 40, Grayslake 21

By the time Grayslake managed to put its first points on the board in the third quarter, courtesy of a 38-yard TD pass from Rhys Salomonson to Ryan Glynn, Crystal Lake South already had a 27-0 lead.

Two more scores from Salomonson to Glynn, from 26 and five yards out, in the fourth quarter weren't enough as the Rams fell 40-21. The loss dropped Grayslake's record to 2-7 on the season, tied for last in the Fox Valley Conference.

Salomonson was 10-of-28 passing for 199 yards with three TDs.

Vernon Hills 28, Zion-Benton 12

In Cougars avenged a 75-28 loss to the Zee-Bees in 2000 to move to 6-3 on the season and 4-2 in the NSC Prairie.

Matt Leffler ran for 117 yards on 22 carries while Jason Newburger (8-14, 81 yards) accounted for three of Vernon's four TDs on the day, including a nine-yard TD run and one and 22-yard TD passes to Billy Jackson.—Rob Backus contributed to this report.

Meet
Tim Perry

Commercial Lending Officer, State Bank of The Lakes

Have you ever found someone who really understood your business and then lost him to another bank or, worse yet, through a bank merger? Are you tired of dealing with someone new each time you have a loan request? And how often have you had to wait for approval to come down through several levels before you heard?

If this sounds familiar, you may want to meet Tim Perry. "Business owners deal with me on a one-to-one basis. Typically, I will be the only person they will have to deal with at the bank to get an answer on a loan request," says Tim. "I'll work directly with them to structure a credit package that fits their needs, and I'll be with them as the business grows." State Bank of The Lakes is one of the few banks you can walk into and deal directly with a lender who can give you an answer. Quickly.

Call State Bank of The Lakes and ask for Tim Perry. You'll find Tim values the relationship with his clients, not just the transactions. Experience a different level of service.

Before we begin this column, one last reminder that in order to enter the Lakeland Newspapers Fantasy Football Monthly contest for the month of November, entries MUST be postmarked by October 31st.

So you like the team you put together? You're just not sure who to put down as the write in candidate in case there is a tie. Last week's stars may surprise you. Keep them in mind while picking your wild card, but I wouldn't recommend them. Each is a one week wonder.

Let's start with the top fantasy receiver for week six, David Patten of the New England Patriots. In last week's game, Patten threw, ran AND caught a touchdown pass. This has only happened two other times in the history of the NFL, with the last player to do so being the "great" Walter Payton.

The top running back last week? That would be Trung Candidate. The former first round draft pick of the St. Louis Rams didn't skip a beat while filling in for superstar running back, Marshall Faulk. Candidate ran for nearly 200 yards and scored in his starting debut. Of course, once Faulk comes back from his injury, Candidate goes back to the bench.

Quarterbacks are hard to figure out. Detroit Lion QB Charlie Batch led the NFL in fantasy points in week six, just weeks after being demoted to second string. During the game, however, Batch lost his top receiver in Germane Crowell.

Don't forget a good week does not make a good month. And also don't forget to look over the schedule for bye weeks and tough games before putting together your November squad.

CLC SPORTS ROUNDUP

Sowizdrzal, Lady Lancer soccer looking for state title

For the past two seasons, fate has not been on the same page as the CLC women's soccer team come playoff time. But in retrospect, it hasn't been all that bad.

That's because the team has made it into the championship game of the state finals each of the last two years. In fact, the team has come within one goal of a state title both years, with each contest an overtime affair.

A year ago, CLC lost in a shootout, and the year before, in overtime. This season, however, has the potential to make it over the hump and win that all-important first state title.

In the first round of the playoffs, CLC defeated South Suburban College 6-0, moving them into the state semifinals.

This was the Lancers' second victory of the season against South Suburban, the last meeting coming in the tune of a 7-0 routing.

Four different Lancers' scored in the first half, making the score 4-0 going into intermission. The Lancers' leading scorer, Nicki Sowizdrzal, however, dominated the second half.

Sowizdrzal's two second-half goals tied the school-record for goals in a season with 18. The record, set three years ago, might have been broken by Sowizdrzal if not for the creative coaching of head coach Dave Beck.

Beck took his leading scorer out with time still remaining in the game.

"I said 'I'll let you tie the record against South Suburban,'" Beck said. "But if you're going to break it, do it against Harper in the semifinals."

If she does break it against Harper, it would be one more than the team scored in its last meeting against second-seeded Harper.

In its last meeting, Harper shut the Lancers out 2-0.

"We had six or seven breakaways that just missed," said Beck. "More than anything that day, it was our inability to convert on our chances that cost us the game."

CLC played Harper Oct. 23. If victorious, it will play the winner of the DuPage-Elgin game for the state championship Oct. 26 at noon.—

Other action Women's volleyball

Following the Skyway Conference Volleyball Tournament, the Lady Lancers finished last in conference, with a 1-11 overall record and 1-5 mark in the tournament.

CLC fell to Moraine Valley (30-16, 30-21), McHenry (30-23, 30-15), Elgin (30-28, 30-25), Morton (30-16, 30-22) and Waubesa (30-21, 25-30, 15-4).

However, the Lancers did pick up their fifth win of the season, 30-22, 30-11 over Oakton to run their overall to 5-25.

Jaime Knuth was selected to the 2001 All-Tournament Conference team on the strength of five aces and 26 kills in the tournament.

Micheline Sprovieri (six aces), Amy Holem (10 kills) and Julie Peters (10 kills, 61 assists) all played well in the tournament.

COLLEGE SPORTS REPORT

Augustana College Football

Former Grant High standout and Lake Villa product Leo LaBrie, a sophomore line-backer, collected nine tackles in the Vikings' 14-7 victory over Illinois Wesleyan. Defensive back and former Mundelein product Ben Hodges also had a fumble recovery to help seal the win.

On the season, LaBrie has 30 tackles and two sacks while Hodges had 22 tackles and one sack. Former Blue Devil, junior linebacker C.J. Cusker, has seen limited time thus far due to an injury.

Augie is currently 5-0 overall, 2-0 in the CCIW. It is also ranked 11th in the American Football Coaches Association Division III poll.

Elmhurst College Women's soccer

Jamie Johnson of McHenry is a returning letter-winner for the Bluejay women's soccer team.

Johnson, a 5-foot, 4-inch sophomore midfielder, played in 16 matches last season. She is a nursing major at Elmhurst.

Johnson dished an assist to to Jeni Sweeney midway through the first-half as Elmhurst slipped past Wheaton 1-0.

A 2000 graduate of Wauconda High, Johnson lettered in soccer, basketball and volleyball.

As a senior, she was team captain for both soccer and basketball. She also earned Best Defensive Award on the hardwood while being named Best Setter for volleyball.

She is the daughter of Byron and Coleen Johnson of McHenry.

Last season, the Bluejays finished 12-7 overall and 5-2 in the College Conference of Illinois & Wisconsin.

Illinois Wesleyan University Women's soccer

Waukegan native and former Warren girls soccer standout Lauren Boegen currently has one assist for the Lady Titans women's soccer team. IWU is 93- overall, 4-3 in the College Conference of Illinois & Wisconsin (CCIW).

Men's soccer

Another Warren graduate, Gurnee's Clay Scott, has scored one goal while dishing out one assist for the Titan men's soccer team, currently 4-5-2 overall, 0-2-1 in the CCIW.

Waukegan's Jeremy Witt, also a Warren graduate, has recorded two saves in goal for the Titans.

Football

With only 38 seconds remaining in regulation, former Antioch football and basketball standout Eric White hauled in a 19-yard touchdown pass in helping lead the Titan football team past Elmhurst 8-3 on a rainy and miserable afternoon.

White, in his freshman year, caught eight balls for an even 100 yards in the game. Titan quarterback Josh Akin (Naperville, Benet Academy) completed 8-of-22 passes for 162 yards. For his efforts, White was named the IWU Offensive Player of the Week. On the season, the former All-NSC, All-

Area and All-County receiver for the Sequoias has 13 catches for 201 yards and four scores. His average per catch stands at a sparkling 15.5.

IWU is presently 3-2 overall and 2-1 in the CCIW.

Northern Illinois University

Lake Villa native and former Grayslake High girls soccer standout Becca Bleyer scored a goal and dished out an assist as the Lady Huskies downed Western Michigan 4-1. On the season, Bleyer's three-point-effort in the game marked a milestone—she became only the third player in NIU history to reach the 50-point plateau for her career. The senior's 20 goals and 12 assists (52 points) moved her into sixth place on the school's all-time charts.

NIU is currently 2-9-1 overall and 2-6 in the Mid-American Continent Conference.

University of Wisconsin-Platteville

Jessie Feldman, a senior from Lindenhurst, is a starting defender-midfielder for the Pioneer women's soccer team. Feldman has played a big role in the team's 1-2-1 start to the 2001 season. She is a communications-graphic design major.

Service Industries Are Creating Job Opportunities

By Scott T. Fleischmann

21st century Americans have more time and discretionary income than ever before. Whereas people in the 1970's and 1980's were looking to accumulate wealth, the new millennium has brought a new set of values, which has created a need for service jobs. People today are more interested in spending leisure time with families and friends, in recreational activities, and spiritual growth.

In order to pursue those activities, we are hiring others to do many of the tasks that have been common household chores. We are also hiring service professionals to help us with some of our leisure activities. The jobs in these industries provide a wide gamut of opportunities. The needs will provide jobs for those with little or no experience as well as highly skilled experienced professionals. Let's look at some of the areas where we can expect to see growth in the service industry:

- Home Cleaning Services - These services have become more popular over the past ten years and the growth will continue. Honest, hard working people can build a clientele that provides a steady income. In addition, I know people in this industry who have expanded these businesses to do other tasks for their customers. Those who will care for pets, run errands or clean carpets are prepared to receive additional rewards.

- Grounds Maintenance - There are increasing opportunities for those who will cut grass, trim trees and bushes, and clean the outdoors of buildings. These services are becoming more popular in both the residential and commercial markets. This industry also provides the possibility for task expansion.

Before we go on to other industries, let me add that these two industries provide great opportunities for those who have little experience but want a career that provides for growth opportunity. Since there are few barriers to entry, one can successfully start their own business without some of the capital investment that other industries require. For those who have business acumen and who are willing to accept the risks of starting a business, these industries afford interesting possibilities.

- Counseling, Consulting and Training - People continue to look for life style improvement. Those who can give guidance in the areas of emotional health, recreation, or family relationships will continue to be needed. Although the primary need is for highly skilled professionals, this growth will span a need for support staff as well. In addition, the need for golf instructors, personal trainers, and nutritionists will grow.

- Ministry - There is a resurgence in spirituality in this country and those who have the gifts and knowledge to feed that need will be rewarded in fulfillment if not monetarily. While many of the more traditional religions continue to see a downturn, some, like evangelical Christianity, are growing. As we have seen, the service industry will continue to provide a wide range of job opportunities. The need for people who have a desire to serve others, and possess the patience and love to meet their need is great. Next week we will look at the final industry in this series, Security.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: I am set up to start a temporary assignment with a company that will last for approximately 8 weeks. I am registered with a temporary agency (name withheld) that asked me to commit to the entire assignment through its completion. The problem is that I am concerned that I have actively been seeking a full time permanent position with several other companies over the past weeks and have heard from one of them that would like me to come in for an interview. The interview will take place this week and the temporary assignment is to start the following week. What would happen if I were to be offered the permanent job? I contacted the temporary agency to tell them of the possibility and they told me that I have verbally committed to them to complete the assignment for the full 8 weeks and that they are expecting that I will. My dad says that no one could hold me to that legally and that they are trying to "strong arm" me. I don't want to get into any legal problems so he told me that I should get in touch with you and ask your opinion. Please hurry as the days are running out. Thank you in advance for your help. (via email) A. R. - Lake Villa

A: You are not committed to anything that you don't want to be committed to. The temporary agency that you are working with clearly knows that. There is nothing that is binding you to the assignment. Not all temporary agencies are so harsh as to make you believe that you have no choice. I would be professional and contact the representative that you are working with and inform her that while your intentions are to commit to this assignment, the possibility does exist that you may receive a desirable permanent position of choice during the time that you are on this assignment. Depending on the factors involved, you may choose to accept this position. While you would try to make every concession to complete the assignment as they would like you cannot possibly guarantee that will be the case. Perhaps they will elect to replace you with someone else now before you are trained for the job. Again, not all agencies operate the same. While it is nice to believe people will commit to specific assignments and their duration, the agency you are working with is well aware that is unrealistic when situations arise. To lead you to believe that you are somehow bound to some verbal contract is absurd. I would not only inform them that you will not commence the assignment with them, but will look for an agency who doesn't take that "strong arm" approach as your dad said. The agency you should be searching for, is the agency who recognizes the candidate, such as yourself, who is in the market to be gainfully employed. If it happens that you get there through the agency... wonderful. If you should find employment on your own, going away with a good feeling about the agency should be paramount to their reputation. Don't settle for less. In fact... contact us!

Just wanted to drop you a quick note to let you know how happy I was with the response I received with Lakeland Media.

I have used Lakeland Newspapers and Market Journal in the past, and was very pleased with the response I received. Not only did I fill the position quickly, but it was a pleasure doing business with you!

I will definitely refer my colleagues to your paper in the future. Again, thank you for your help.

News from the Condell Health Network

New Ladle of Learning series offers classed in cooking and the culinary arts at Centre Club in Gurnee

Whether you are a novice to the kitchen or a seasoned chef, Condell Medical Center's Centre Club in Gurnee is now offering the Ladle of Learning Series of classes in cooking and the culinary arts.

Presented by culinary specialists, the program provides an assortment of mouth-watering recipes, fast and easy food preparation ideas, nutrition information, entertaining tips and generous samples.

Instructors Pina Andreiw, Alison Bond Reich, Carol Mackey and Kathleen Kennedy are all exceptionally rich in culinary skills. Andreiw, a graduate of the Institute Notre Dame DeJoie in Brussels, Belgium, owns a hands-on cooking school with partner, Janet Lisinski, specializing in European Cuisine. Bond Reich, a culinary educator, food writer, demonstration chef and food stylist, studied two years at the Cordon Blue Cooking School in Paris where she also catered and lectured. Her experience includes being a private chef for a U.S. Senator in California.

Mackey, a graduate of the Cooking and Hospitality Institute of Chicago, traveled for 10 years working in a variety of hospitality venues and top caterers throughout the country. In 1999, Mackey settled back in Chicago where she has been teaching her own cooking classes that have been featured on CLTV and in the Daily Herald. Kennedy, a chef and author with 20 years experience in the hospitality industry has appeared on the Food Network's "Cooking Live" and the Discover Channel's "Home Matters" shows.

All classes are open to Centre Club members and non-members and are held in the Demonstration Kitchen at the Centre Club in Gurnee, 1405 Hunt Club Road. A $45 fee is due at the time of registration and includes instruction, recipes and a gourmet dining experience. Class size is limited so register early.

For the Love of Pizza (Andreiw & Lisinski): Wednesday, October 31, 10 am - 1 pm

Turn your kitchen into a genuine pizzeria! Prepare and sample varieties, such as Deep-Dish Pizza, Mediterranean Pizza, Focaccia Bread, Panzerotti with Sausage, Fresh Spinach and Mushrooms and Mini Pizzas. Learn how to make appetizer pizza bread with olive oil, cheese and rosemary. Use the pizza dough scraps and make Old Fashioned Fried Dough seasoned with cinnamon and sugar.

Festive Hors D'oeuvres and Appetizers for Holiday Entertaining (Bond Reich): Saturday, November 3, 1:30 - 3:30 pm

No more holiday hor d'oeuvres and appetizers leftovers this year! Learn delicious recipes, including Martini Puffs, Chili-Cheddar Cheese Biscuits, and Sweet and Spicy Pecans that will keep your guests coming back for more!

Thanksgiving 101: Everything but the Turkey (Bond Reich): Tuesday, November 6, 6:30 - 8:30 pm

Seated in his Waukegan office, Jerome "Jerry" Drobnick, founder of Drobnick Realty returns to work following an extensive rehabilitation program at Rolling Hills Manor.

Following an accident, Drobnick was released from an area hospital to undergo physical and occupational therapy. "Exercise helped me to reach my goal to be independent and return to work. Keeping active helps keep your marbles." He said, "they treated me nicely and the food was good too." Continuing he commented, "the facility was close to home, convenient, and the service was super!"

Jerry, being a well-known figure in the community, was a motivational figure here at Rolling Hills. He encouraged everyone to reach their full potential. "He would greet me every morning with a smile and salute as I came to work," states administrator Sue Harris.

Center for Advanced Eyecare for any eyecare needs

Dr. Jackson is a board certified Ophthalmologist and surgeon specializing in diagnosis and treatment of cataracts, glaucoma, kerataconus, myopia, hyperopia, and astigmatism. He is a highly skilled surgeon performing the most up to date procedures such as small incision "no-stitch" cataract surgery with Lens Implants, insertion of IntraStromal Corneal Rings (INTACS), LASIK, LASEK, PRK, LTK, and Prelex.

The office recently acquired a new Heidelberg Retina Tomograph II (HRT II) specifically to diagnosis and monitor glaucoma in patients. The HRT II is a scanning laser ophthalmoscope which creates a three dimensional image of the retina Center for Advanced Eyecare, owned by Mitchell A. Jackson, MD., is a full service ophthalmology practice providing state-of-the-art technology for diagnosis and treatment of chronic eye diseases, as well as acute infection, and injury.

allowing accurate measurement of the back of the eye anatomy. An exam with this equipment is quick and painless. It allows the physician to view the optic nerve in the back of the eye and assess it for damage due to glaucoma over periods of time. Early diagnosis and treatment of glaucoma, prevents loss of vision. The HRT

II is used for monitoring known glaucoma patients, and as a screening tool for those at high risk with a family history of the disease.

Another new addition in the office is the Alcon Summit Autonomous LADARVision® Laser used in LASIK surgery. It too is new technology, with EyeTracker™. EyeTracker™ allows patients to relax during surgery by taking the worry out of moving the eyes during the procedure. The device accurately tracks eye movements during surgery and adjusts and realigns itself between each laser pulse guiding the laser beam with pinpoint accuracy. This reduces the likelihood of nighttime glare and halos often experienced with other laser systems by reshaping the cornea with precision accuracy.

Also on staff are Drs. Farquhar and Levine, who provide regular eye exams, refractive evaluations, and emergent eye care. Dr. Jackson also serves as a resource to Optometric Doctors in the area providing diagnostic and surgical services to their patients, when requested. For more information on services, or to schedule an appointment, call 1-888-356-0700.

Save first flu shots for those most in need

Flu season will be here before long, and the season for flu shots will arrive even sooner.

Here in Illinois, a little courtesy may be in order as residents line up to receive their immunizations.

The state's supply of the influenza vaccine is low at the moment, and Dr. John Lumpkin, head of the state public health department, is suggesting that the earliest vaccinations be given to people who are most at risk when it comes to complications from the flu.

That group, Lumpkin explains, includes people who are 65 or older, nursing home residents and people with chronic diseases afflicting the heart or lungs.

These are the people for whom flu can be life threatening.

It is not as if those who are at lower risk will, by waiting a while, lose their chance to receive a flu shot.

The federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention say that about 60 percent of the vaccine needed should be available by the end of October.

The rest of the supply will arrive in November and December, when residents can still get their shots and the protection they offer before the flu season begins in earnest.

Unless the supply picture changes within the next couple of weeks, those Illinois residents who can wait for their shots should do so.

Centegra in major expansion program

Centegra Health System, located in McHenry County, is undergoing a major expansion of its two acute care hospitals: Memorial Medical Center in Woodstock, and Northern Illinois Medical Center (NIMC) in McHenry. The $25,000,000 project will address a full range of services and programs and will focus on areas that will make a significant difference in accessing health care.

These key areas are: Ambulatory Care; Women's Health; and Cardiac Care. The ground-breakings were held in June, 2001 and the building program is scheduled for completion in 2003. The expansion will result in a dramatic change of the physical facades of both hospitals, and will greatly improve patient traffic flow, increasing the efficient use of services throughout the system.

A special benefit of the new construction is the reconfiguration of the main lobby into a highly efficient area designed to expedite the patient admitting process. The rapidly growing outpatient services will be accommodated with a full redesign of medical imaging, soon to be relocated near the Heart Center and the Women's Health center at both Memorial and NIMC. The Women's Health Center will be centralized at both hospitals and will include mammography, ultrasound, bone densitometry and an educational library.

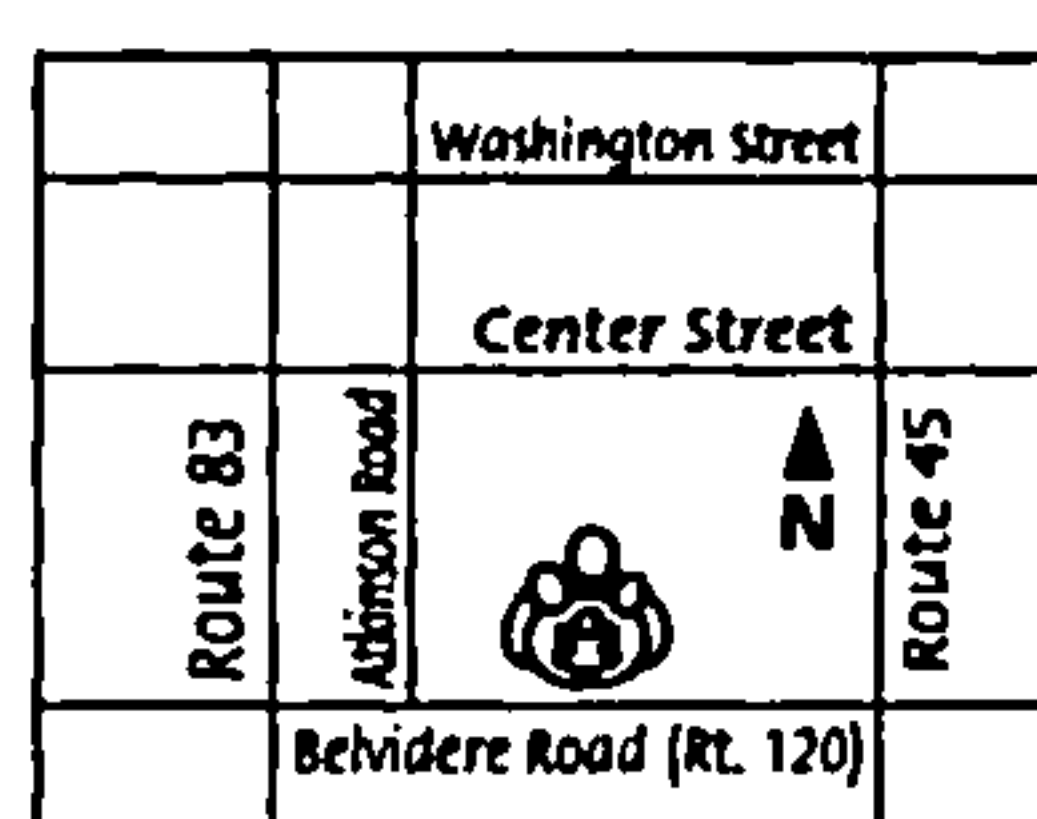

In its initial phase of expansion, new Heart Centers at both facilities would be capable of specialty testing through cutting edge technology not currently available due to space or equipment constraints. Faster result for diagnostic tests will also decrease any backlog, giving patients and physicians potentially life-saving answers far earlier in the care process.

Centegra Health System was created when the two hospitals came together to better serve the needs of the northern Illinois region. Both Memorial and NIMC are Level Two Trauma Centers and home to the Flight for Life helicopter. According to Paul Laudick, president and CEO of Centegra, "The patient is the heart of everything we do, every decision, every action, every plan. In moving forward, we recognize our responsibility to deliver seamless health care with outstanding clinical staff, appropriate support services and state-of-the-art equipment."

Ritacca Laser Center

Mirror, mirror on the wall, who has the clearest skin of all?

Now at the speed of light, you can rejuvenate your skin, restore its youthful appearance, and restore your confidence again. This light treatment offers the latest in rejuvenation, improving rosacea, removing brown spots, shrinking pores, and eliminating wrinkles without the down time of surgery or old lasers in the past. These Intense Pulse Light (IPL) treatments were developed by Dr. Bitter, a California dermatologist, when he was trying to remove hair on his patient's face with the light. The patient began to notice that not only was the hair disappearing, but so were the brown spots and broken blood vessels. Dr. Daniel Ritacca, an oculoplastic surgeon, was trained by Dr. Bitter and was one of the first to offer this treatment in the midwest.

Dr. Ritacca is a graduate of the University of Illinois with honors and was nominated to the society of Alpha Omega Alpha (AOA), the prestigious national society of medicine. He has been a regular guest on NBC and CBS and has been seen on Primetime with Sam Donaldson. He currently directs the Ritacca Laser Center (Vernon Hills) and the Laser Care Institute (Hoffman Estates) and employs four cosmetic and plastic surgeons—offering both the latest technology and the most qualified physicians in the medical field.

Other laser treatments in the clinic include laser vision correction with the latest flying spot lasers, breast augmentation without visible scars, liposculpture and laser hair removal, as well as the Intense Pulse Light (IPL) treatments. All consultations are free. For more information, call 800-31-LASER for a location near you, or visit their web site at www.lasercareinstitute.com.

Your whitest teeth.
Not in three months. Not in three weeks.
By tonight.

Introducing the BriteSmile Professional Teeth Whitening Process. Our revolutionary new technology is so effective, it can safely and gently whiten your teeth to their ultimate natural whiteness – in just one visit. Just call our office today. And you could have whiter teeth by tonight.

Eugene F. Ingles, DDS, Cosmetic & Family Dental Care,
915 N. Milwaukee Ave., Suite B, Libertyville (847) 362-9700
BriteSmile process administered by an Illinois-Licensed General Dentist.

Eugene Ingles, DDS: BriteSmile, Preventive Dentistry make winning combination

The say an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," says Eugene Ingles, DDS, as he talks about his new cosmetic and family dental care office in Libertyville. "And when it comes to taking care of your teeth, prevention can go a long way." Dr. Ingles, who recently expanded his practice to include the new office at 915 N. Milwaukee, along with the practice he shares with his father in Lake Zurich, brings 14 years of experience to the Libertyville area. "I grew up in the area, so I feel like I have a sense of the needs of the community," he says.

Dr. Ingles' office is also a BriteSmile Associated Center, which uses a breakthrough new "blue light" technology and a gentle whitening gel to safely whiten your teeth to their ultimate natural whiteness (Over eight shades whiter on average) in just one visit of about an hour. "We also have a strong commitment to young children in preventing decay through fluoride treatments, through sealants, and through stressing regular recall visits," he adds.

An honors graduate from the Loyola School of Dentistry in Chicago, Dr. Ingles credits his father as well as three friends for guiding him toward the healthcare field. "My dad encouraged me to become proactive in preventing problems," Dr. Ingles says. I share a lot of my father's thoughts and try to blend them with the newer ideas. I also had three friends in college, who today are doctors in orthopedic surgery, urology, and anesthesia. They're also very active in their professions, and it's probably one of the reasons I'm so active with mine, like the ADA, the Chicago Dental Society and the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry," he says.

For an appointment with Dr. Ingles, call 362-1337, or visit his office at 915 N. Milwaukee Ave., Suite B, Libertyville.

At the leading-edge cancer hospitals, patients are treated in ways other hospitals don't. Because the cancer specialists know about the positive results achieved by research studies using nutrition to combat cancer, nutritional therapy has been made a part of their innovative, comprehensive treatment program. This personal team of experts not only includes doctors and oncologists skilled in the latest medical technology, but on-site nutritionists. And because the cancer care is compassionate as well as advanced, the team also includes the support of psychological and spiritual counselors. At Cancer Treatment Centers of America, they are winning the fight against cancer every day. Find out about the options that can help you win your fight.

Personalized Nutritional Programs

When you choose one of the hospitals, you'll be introduced to a doctor of naturopathic medicine and an experienced nutritionist who will be part of your team. They will formulate a customized therapeutic dietary program, including vitamin and mineral supplements, to meet your specific needs. Your nutrition program will be designed to stimulate your immune system to fight your disease, and to enhance your own body's fighting ability. Nutritional therapy also strengthens your physical well being, and has been shown to decrease the side effects of certain treatments and add to the quality of your life.

Innovative Medicine

Doctors from around the world bring their expertise in breakthrough treatments to this program at Cancer Treatment Centers of America. As a result, we place higher emphasis on the quality of patient care. Many of the specialists are triple-board-certified. And they are not only experts, they have a heart. They take the time to listen to you. To explain. And to involve you in your treatment, which may include, in addition to traditional medical therapy, treatment options available at only a handful of the nation's most advanced cancer hospitals.

These options include:

High-Dose Rate Brachytherapy-to target radiation directly to the site of a tumor or to an area surrounding a lumpectomy while sparing healthy tissue. For breast, lung, prostate and gynecological cancer.

Fractionated Dose Chemotherapy-to maximize the intensity and effectiveness while minimizing side effects.

Bone Marrow Transplantation Therapy-to destroy cancer cells and maintain the body's bone marrow defense system, through the use of very high doses of chemotherapy and stem cell rescue.

Intra-Arterial Infusion-to administer chemotherapy directly to the pancreas, liver, head and neck, via splenic and hepatic arterial approaches.

Local Hyperthermia-to use the heat of ultrahigh frequency sound waves directed toward the tumor to destroy cancer cells, and to make them more susceptible to other forms of treatment.

Immunotherapy-to use the body's own naturally occurring defense substances to destroy cancer cells.

Intensity Modulated Radiation Therapy (IMRT)-to deliver high doses of radiation to hard-to-reach tumors, such as in the brain, head and neck areas, while sparing healthy tissue.

Photodynamic Therapy (PDT)-to destroy tumor cells through the use of a light-sensitive drug, activated by a low light energy laser. For esophageal, early-stage lung cancer and several other types of cancer.

Comprehensive Hepatic Center-to offer tumor ablation, chemoembolization, regional biologic therapy, radiation therapy and research for living cancer patients. One of the few facilities in the country to offer such a program.

Physical Therapy 'Motion for Life'

At Cancer Treatment Centers of America, we believe you shouldn't have to feel worse to get better. The proprietary physical therapy program "Motion for Life" is designed to strengthen muscles and maintain a level of physical activity that will overcome the weakness and energy loss some individuals experience during treatments. Your physical therapist is part of your treatment team and will work with you to create a simple exercise program that meets your individual needs. The benefits of "Motion for Life" can extend for a lifetime. Continuing your prescribed program at home can help you remain active and do the things you want to do.

Emotional Support, Psychological Counseling

Cancer affects more than the individual. It affects everyone in the family. The professional staff of specialty trained counselors and psychotherapists helps you and your family to use that part of yourselves that is best able to cope with this profound change in your lives. They bring compassion and understanding to the fears, anger and hope expressed by you and your loved ones. The therapeutic relationship also helps you fight your disease. Your treatment team includes people who have specialized training psychoneuroimmunology.

Through this form of therapy, you learn to use your psychological resources to enhance your inner well being, which may stimulate your immune system to help you better fight your disease. At Cancer Treatment Centers of America, the treatment options help you fight back with everything you've got.

Spiritual Support

Available for patients and their families, the on-site support program respects each patient's religious beliefs. The interdenominational chaplains will visit you as often as you like, or visits can be arranged from clergy of your own faith. Ecumenical services are held on-site. A specialty trained member of the clergy will become part of your treatment team. During therapy, emphasis is placed on using the patient's religious beliefs as part of the defense system that enhances the patient's inner well-being, so the body is more responsive to the medical treatment.

Above; Cancer Treatment Centers of America, which treats cancer patients from all 50 states and 45 foreign countries, has experienced double-digit growth in new cancer patients for the past several years and needs more room. The current $4.5 million expansion project will add 30,000 square feet to the more than 125,000 square-foot hospital. The addition will represent a dramatic improvement in outpatient capacity, from 18-39 stations. When construction is complete, the area currently reserved for construction equipment will be improved and feature 60 patient parking spaces.

A tomato a day keeps the oncologist away.

That may not be entirely true but it is true that tomatoes, along with many other foods, have been proven to have cancer fighting properties.

In fact, studies have shown that just five servings of fruits and vegetables daily can prevent as much as 20 percent of all cancers. The cancer fighting benefits of proper nutrition apply to those who have been diagnosed and treated for cancer as well.

But keeping proper nutritional habits can be very complicated, especially when challenged with the rigors of traditional cancer treatment. If you add in complications from an unhealthy liver, renal system, or diabetes, the proper roadmap for nutrition gets even a little more gray.

That is why consulting a nutritionist can be just what the doctor ordered. Your one-hour consultation is a phone call away. Kim Dalzell, PhD, RD, LD, is an oncology nutritionist with over a decade of experience in the cancer treatment field. She is the program director for holistic nutrition services at Cancer Resource center in Gurnee.
